Alex Bridger Senior Lecturer in Critical Social Psychology University of Huddersfield UK Carla Willig is Professor of Psychology at City University of London UK She is the author of numerous bestselling books for Psychology students and is widely admired for her friendly practical approach to writing and to teaching Language and Gender Penelope Eckert, Sally McConnell-Ginet, 2003-01-09 Table of contents Clinical Trials in Osteoporosis Derek Pearson, Colin G. Miller, 2007-05-27 COLING MILLER AND DEREK PEARSON 1 1 Why a Book about Clinical Trials in Osteoporosis There have been many books published about the design conduct and analysis of clinical trials

Why are osteoporosis trials a special case that deserve a book of their own There are three main reasons First most diseases have a well understood definition and aetiology Osteoporosis is a disease that is understood by those working within the subspecialty but currently there is no definition that is agreeable to both medical and scientific communities and its aetiology is poorly understood It is within this framework that the pharmaceutical industry is trying to develop new treatments for this so called silent epidemic In layman's terms the disease of osteoporosis is defined as brittle bones occurring in the elderly that could lead to fractures The classical definition was a bony fracture caused by minimal trauma owing to a loss in bone mineral A published consensus definition states that osteoporosis is a systemic skeletal disease characterized by low bone mass and microarchitectural deterioration of bone tissue with a consequent increase in bone fragility and susceptibility to fractures The National Institutes of Health NIH Consensus Conference Statement on Osteoporosis Prevention Diagnosis and Therapy states that osteoporosis is a skeletal disorder characterized by compromised bone strength 2 predisposing to an increased risk of fracture The World Health Organization WHO operationally defines osteoporosis as bone density 2.5 standard deviations SDs below the mean for young white adult women at lumbar spine 3 femoral neck or forearm

It is now recommended that the diagnostic use of this 4 definition is restricted to bone density of the femur Proceedings of the EAA Joint Symposium on Auralization and Ambisonics 2014 Weinzierl, Stefan, Vorländer, Michael, Zotter, Franz, Maempel, Hans-Joachim, Lindau, Alexander, 2014 In consideration of the remarkable intensity of research in the field of Virtual Acoustics including different areas such as sound field analysis and synthesis spatial audio technologies and room acoustical modeling and auralization it seemed about time to organize a second international symposium following the model of the first EAA Auralization Symposium initiated in 2009 by the acoustics group of the former Helsinki University of Technology now Aalto University Additionally research communities which are focused on different approaches to sound field synthesis such as Ambisonics or Wave Field Synthesis have in the meantime moved closer together by using increasingly consistent theoretical frameworks Finally the quality of virtual acoustic environments is often considered as a result of all processing stages mentioned above increasing the need for discussions on consistent strategies for evaluation Thus it seemed appropriate to integrate two of the most relevant communities i.e. to combine the 2nd International Auralization Symposium with the 5th International Symposium on Ambisonics and Spherical Acoustics The Symposia on Ambisonics initiated in 2009

by the Institute of Electronic Music and Acoustics of the University of Music and Performing Arts in Graz were traditionally dedicated to problems of spherical sound field analysis and re synthesis strategies for the exchange of ambisonics encoded audio material and more than other conferences in this area the artistic application of spatial audio systems This publication contains the official conference proceedings It includes 29 manuscripts which have passed a 3 stage peer review with a board of about 70 international reviewers involved in the process Each contribution has already been published individually with a unique DOI on the DepositOnce digital repository of TU Berlin Some conference contributions have been recommended for resubmission to Acta Acustica united with Acustica to possibly appear in a Special Issue on Virtual Acoustics in late 2014 These are not published in this collection
