Post Traumatic Culture:

Post-traumatic Culture Kirby Farrell, 1998-09-29 According to author Kirby Farrell the concept of trauma has shaped some of the central narratives of the 1990s from Vietnam war stories to the video farewells of Heaven's Gate cult members In this unique study Farrell explores the surprising uses of trauma as both an enabling fiction and an explanatory tool during periods of overwhelming cultural change

Post-Traumatic Public Theology Stephanie N. Arel, Shelly Rambo, 2016-11-02 This book imagines new modes of religious response to trauma moving beyond simple answers to the why of human suffering toward discussions of profound expressions of faith in the aftermath of trauma Engaging current realities such as war race and climate change chapters feature specific locations from which theology is done and draw on the resources of Christian faith in order to respond This volume recognizes religious leaders as first responders to trauma and offers theological reflections that can stand up in the current realities of violence and its aftermath The writings provide models for how to integrate the language of faith with the literature of trauma

Trauma Culture E. Ann Kaplan, 2005-07-11 E Ann Kaplan explores the relationship between the impact of trauma on individuals and on entire cultures and nations Arguing that humans possess a need to draw meaning from personal experience and to communicate what happens to others she examines the forms that are used to bridge the experience

The Gothic in Contemporary British Trauma Fiction

Ashlee Joyce, 2019-09-05 This book examines the intersection of trauma and the Gothic in six contemporary British novels Martin Amis's London Fields Margaret Drabble's The Gates of Ivory Ian McEwan's Atonement Pat Barker's Regeneration and Double Vision and Kazuo Ishiguro's Never Let Me Go In these works the Gothic functions both as an expression of societal violence at the turn of the twenty first century and as a response to the related crisis of representation brought about by the contemporary individual's highly mediated and spectatorial relationship to this violence By locating these six novels within the Gothic tradition this work argues that each text to borrow a term from Jacques Derrida participates in the Gothic in ways that both uphold the paradigm of unspeakability that has come to dominate much trauma fiction as well as push its boundaries to complicate how we think of the ethical relationship between witnessing and writing trauma

Wounds and Words Christa Schönfelder, 2014-04-15 Trauma has become a hotly contested topic in literary studies But interest in trauma is not new its roots extend to the Romantic period when novelists and the first psychiatrists influenced each others investigations of the wounded mind This book looks back to these early attempts to understand trauma reading a selection of Romantic novels in dialogue with Romantic and contemporary psychiatry It then carries that dialogue forward to postmodern fiction examining further how empirical approaches can deepen our theorizations of trauma Within an interdisciplinary framework this study reveals fresh insights into the poetics politics and ethics of trauma fiction

Long Term Impact of War, Civil War and Persecution in Civilian Populations Thomas Wenzel, Meryam Schouler-Ocak, Thomas Stompe, 2021-11-01

Trauma, Culture, and PTSD C. Fred Alford, 2016-06-09 This book examines the social contexts in which trauma is created by those who study it whether considering the way in which trauma afflicts groups cultures and nations or the way in which trauma is transmitted down the generations As Alford argues ours has been called an age of trauma Yet neither trauma nor post traumatic stress disorder PTSD are scientific concepts Trauma has been around forever even if it was not called that PTSD is the creation of a group of Vietnam veterans and psychiatrists designed to help explain the veterans suffering This does not detract from the value of PTSD but sets its historical and social context The author also confronts the attempt to study trauma scientifically exploring the use of technologies such as magnetic resonance imagining MRI Alford concludes that the scientific study of trauma often reflects a willed ignorance of traumatic experience In the end trauma is about suffering
