Postcolonial African Philosophy: A Critical Reader Emmanuel Chukwudi Eze, 1997-02-10 Postcolonial African Philosophy A Critical Reader sets out a timely and powerful agenda for contemporary African Afro Caribbean and African American philosophy

African Philosophy Emmanuel Chukwudi Eze, 1998-02-04 Bringing together canonical philosophical texts from African African American Afro Caribbean and Black European thinkers this major new anthology is designed to serve both as a textbook and as the authoritative reference volume in Africana philosophical and cultural studies

Meaning of Justice in African Philosophy Grivas Muchineripi Kayange, 2023-11-27 The book examines the meaning of justice in African political philosophy building on the use theoretical approach Currently most of the philosophical works in this context advocate for a communal interpretation of the meaning of justice such as the relational theory of justice and Ubuntu justice as fairness The author argues that this foundation of justice in the community undermines the self which is a major problem with these theories As an attempt to go beyond communitarianism in African thought the book recognizes other philosophical frameworks for elaborating the meaning of justice in ordinary people s experience such as vitalism theism ubuntuism and semantic framework The author opts for a reconstructed ubuntu based theory of the meaning of justice that reflects the traditional African experience and recuperates valuing self existence and valuing other existence as its foundations The book further identifies the centrality of rights in defining justice intraditional African communities

An Anthology of African Cultural Studies, Volume I Keyan G. Tomaselli, Handel Kashope Wright, 2024-10-04 This volume provides an overview of fundamental or grounding themes in African Cultural Studies including the articulation of African cultural studies the issue of Africa s diaspora s African identity and identifications and media studies in Africa and its relationship with cultural studies The first of two volumes the book predominantly pulls together a rich reservoir of previously published articles from Critical Arts South North Cultural and Media Studies mapping a long history of the field that draws from a diverse range of origins and locations especially from within Africa itself The first section of the book addresses how African cultural studies has been called for and explained both as a comprehensive continental and sometimes national discourse and as being in conversation with established global cultural studies The second section addresses the African diaspora and what might be termed diasporic African cultural studies A third principal theme explored is how African identities and identifications are articulated in African cultural studies On spatiality the volume takes a stance on the exclusive continental versus continuity conception of Africa the African diaspora is treated as contributory and its relationship to the continent as problematic while taking up continental Africa as the principal location of African cultural studies In terms of identity Blackness is taken up as the dominant but importantly not exclusive racial identity and identification of African cultural studies and gender and social class are also addressed in novel ways The book ends with an examination of the complex relationship between media studies and cultural studies This book will be a key resource for academics researchers and advanced students of African cultural studies media and cultural studies African studies history politics sociology and social and cultural anthropology while also being of interest to those seeking an introduction to the sub field of African cultural studies Culture in a Post-Secular Context Alan Thomson,2014-05-16 Is culture a theologically neutral concept The contemporary experts on culture anthropologists and sociologists argue that it is Theologians and missiologists would seem to agree given the extent of their reliance on anthropological and sociological definitions of culture Yet this appears a strange reliance given that presumed neutrality in the sciences is a consistently challenged assumption It is stranger still given that so much theological energy has been expended on understanding and defining the human person in specifically theological as opposed to anthropological terms when culture is in some sense the expression of this personhood in corporate and material forms This book argues that culture is not and has never been a theologically neutral concept rather it always expresses some theological posture and is therefore a term that naturally invites theological investigation Going about this task is difficult however in the face of a longterm reliance on the social sciences that seems to have starved the contemporary theological community of resources for defining culture Against this it is argued that rich subterranean veins for such a task do exist within the recent tradition most notably in the writings of John Milbank Karl Barth and Kwame Bediako Foundations of Just Cross-Cultural Dialogue in Kant and African Political Thought Gemma K. Bird,2018-10-19 This book addresses the potential existence of shared foundational principles in the work of Immanuel Kant and a range of African political thought as well as their suitability in facilitating just and fair cross cultural dialogue The book first establishes an analytical framework grounded in a Kantian approach to understanding shared human principles suggesting that a drive to be self law giving may underpin all human interactions regardless of cultural background It then investigates this assumption by carrying out a theoretical analysis of texts and speeches from a variety of African scholarship ranging from the colonial period to the present day The analysis divided into three distinctive chapters covers the Ngritide movement African socialism and post colonial philosophers including such thinkers as Leopold Sengor Julius K Nyerere Kwame Nkrumah Kwame Anthony Appiah Kwasi Wiredu and Kwame Gyekye The author argues that underpinning each of their very different theoretical positions and arguments is a foundational argument for the importance of self law giving In doing so she highlights the need to respect this principle when embarking on cross cultural dialogues The book will be of interest to students and scholars in the fields of African political thought political theory and international relations Kant and the Politics of Racism Jimmy Yab,2021-09-11 This book proposes an account of the place of the theory of race in Kant s thought as a central part of philosophical anthropology in his political system Kant s theory of race this book argues is integral to the analysis of the Charakteristik of the human species and determined by human natural predispositions The understanding of his theory as such suggests not only an alternative reading to the orthodox narrative we have seen so far but also reveals the underlying centrality of the notion of human natural predispositions in a way that is consequential for Kant's philosophy as a whole. What is the impact of Kant's racial theory on his philosophy and political thought? Is Kant a consistent egalitarian or a partisan Universalist thinker? Is he the symbol of racist prejudices of his time? What is the influence of his racial hierarchy on his cosmopolitan right? Or more simply is Kant racist? From a systematic examination of Kant's relevant writings, this book provides answers to these questions and sheds light on two fundamental problems of his theory of race for moral philosophy: namely, 1) the completeness of the character of the White race and 2) the dispossession of the character of the beauty and the dignity of human nature of the Negro race. These two issues, unperceived from the orthodox reading's perspective, however uncovered by the heterodox reading, not only shape Kant's race thinking from the beginning to the end of his life, transform his cosmopolitan right into a non-universalist form of right, but merely define Kant as a fundamental racist thinker since he developed the anthropology, the philosophy, and the politics of racism in a systematic way.

Local Histories/Global Designs Walter D. Mignolo, 2012-08-26. Local Histories Global Designs is an extended argument about the coloniality of power by one of the most innovative Latin American and Latino scholars. In a shrinking world where sharp dichotomies such as East-West and developed-developing blur and shift, Walter Mignolo points to the inadequacy of current practices in the social sciences and area studies. He explores the crucial notion of colonial difference in the study of the modern colonial world and traces the emergence of an epistemic shift which he calls border thinking. Further, he expands the horizons of those debates already under way in postcolonial studies of Asia and Africa by dwelling in the genealogy of thoughts of South Central America, the Caribbean, and Latino as in the United States. His concept of border gnosis or sensing and knowing by dwelling in imperial colonial borderlands counters the tendency of occidentalist perspectives to manage and thus limit understanding. In a new preface that discusses Local Histories Global Designs as a dialogue with Hegel's Philosophy of History, Mignolo connects his argument with the unfolding of history in the first decade of the twenty-first century.

African Values, Ethics, and Technology Beatrice Dedaa Okyere-Manu, 2021-04-30. This book charts technological developments from an African ethical perspective. It explores the idea that while certain technologies have benefited Africans, the fact that these technologies were designed and produced in and for a different setting leads to conflicts with African ethical values. Written in a simple and engaging style, the authors apply an African ethical lens to themes such as The Fourth Industrial Revolution, the moral status of technology, technology and sexual relations, and bioethics and technology.

Oladélé Ajiboyé Bamgboyé Bartomeu Marí, 2000. This publication brings together texts by Olad Ajiboy Bamgboye and artist born in 1963 in Odu Eku Nigeria and based since 1966 in London Bamgboys politically driven work interweaves ethical and aesthetic concerns with remarkable care dexterity and attention to process and this goes for both his art and his critical writings which bring a fresh non Western perspective to current debates about technology and culture As Bamgboys puts it in his artists statement Central to my academic interests teaching philosophy and artistic critical framework is the need to make sense of culture and its complexities during the purported era of globalization Equally necessary for my practice is a critical appraisal of technology as a culture that saturates our world leading to its ascendance as a dominant discourse I am interested in the possibilities for a critical art practice that is informed by the analysis of our cultural condition while avoiding the pitfalls of hypercynicism that can confine us within a framework that longs for an old reality

The Third Way in African Philosophy Olusegun Oladipo,2002 Postmodernism, Postcoloniality, and African Studies Zine Magubane,2005 When Kwame Appiah asked the question whether post in postcolonial was the post in postmodern he challenged the theoretical tenets of both postmodernism and postcolonial studies and opened up a space for a dialogue which unfortunately only a handful of scholars have continued This volume represents an attempt by Africanist scholars to intervene and change the course of current debates which are being carried out with little or no thought to their applicability or relevance to African studies The purpose of this study is not merely to present an African version of postcolonial studies or postmodernism or to Africanize their content and theory Rather it aims to re situate these concepts and debates which are at risk of being colonized by American and European academic provincialism This collection considers perspectives from West South and East Africa as well as the Caribbean It approaches current debates from the disciplinary perspectives of anthropology history linguistics literature philosophy and sociology while dealing with a diverse range of issues including gender race ethnicity and identity Contributors to this volume include Grant Farred Olakunle George Zine Magubane Alamin Mazrui Amina Mire Adlai Murdoch Tejumola Olaniyan Joseph Reilly and Paul Tiyambe Zeleza Lingua Franca ,1996
