Power And Ideas:

Power in Ideas Kirsten Adams, Daniel Kreiss, 2021-04-30 This Element argues that understanding media and democracy in troubled times requires an analytical framework that takes seriously the role of ideas in political life and communication We develop a framework for analyzing ideas and argue that the empirical study of ideas should combine interpretive approaches to derive meaning and understand influence with quantitative analysis to help determine the reach spread and impact of ideas We illustrate our approach through three case studies the idea of reparations in Ta Nehisi Coates s The Case for Reparations the idea of free expression in Mark Zuckerberg s Facebook policy speech at Georgetown and Andrew Yang s idea of the Freedom Dividend as a form of universal basic income We trace the landscapes and spheres within which these ideas emerged and were articulated within the ways they were encoded in discourse the fields they travelled across and how they became powerful

Revisiting Ideas of Power in Southeast Asia Hjordleifur R. Jonsson, 2026-01-22 This book builds upon landmark contributions by Lucien Hanks and Benedict Anderson to interdisciplinary scholarship on Southeast Asia particularly their essays on how worldview and indigenous notions of power have shaped society and politics Five anthropologists revisit these classic analyses situating local notions of power in contemporary dynamics through fieldwork areal comparisons and historical studies in this volume Their comparisons contrasts and ethnography in contemporary Thailand Laos and Indonesia examine local notions of power in relation to hierarchy socialism indigeneity Buddhism marginalization and political debates The case studies range in focus from intellectual property and religious freedom in Indonesia understandings of socialism and village state relations in Laos changing interpersonal dynamics in fieldwork encounters in Thailand that span four decades and to inclusiveness and pluralism in interethnic relations between hill and valley peoples across the region over millennia The case studies are accompanied by an essay on the lasting value of comparative regional and historical perspectives on Southeast Asia The essays challenge the mainstream focus on culture as meaning and instead situate cultural trends in history function and interpersonal negotiations Revisiting Ideas of Power in Southeast Asia will be valuable to researchers and students of Anthropology Politics Asian Studies International Relations and those interested in the history and geopolitics of Southeast Asia The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Anthropological Forum

The Power of Public Ideas Robert B. Reich, 1988 Dodge Idea and Power and Transmission , 1908 Constituent Power and the Legitimacy of International Organizations John G. Oates, 2020-02-10 This book develops a constitutional theory of international organization to explain the legitimation of supranational organizations Supranational organizations play a key role in contemporary global governance but recent events like Brexit and the threat by South Africa to withdraw from the International Criminal Court suggest that their legitimacy continues to generate contentious debates in many countries Rethinking international organization as a constitutional problem Oates argues that it is the representation of the constituent power of a constitutional order that is the collective subject in whose name authority is wielded which explains the legitimation of supranational authority Comparing the cases of the European Union the World Trade Organization and the International Criminal Court Oates shows that the constitution of supranationalism is far from a functional response to the pressures of interdependence but a value laden struggle to define the proper subject of global governance The book will be of interest to students and scholars of international organization and those working in the broader fields of global governance and general International Relations theory It should also be of interest to international legal scholars particularly those focused on questions related to global constitutionalism

Schaeffer,John Piersol McCaskey,Thomas Edward Finegan,James Herbert Kelley,1872 Power, Perception, and Politics in the Making of Iranian Grand Strategy Kevjn Lim,2022-07-04 This book explains changes to Iranian grand strategy over the past four decades and it does so by advancing a multicausal model that unifies the three main paradigms of International Relations IR theory Hence ideas constructivism mediate between the structure of material capabilities realism and agents liberalism and interact with each to produce respectively threat perception and political preferences Using these two explanatory factors the author demonstrates how the Islamic Republic s grand strategy has systematically varied over time to produce a mix of outcomes that includes balancing expansionism bandwagoning appeasement engagement and retrenchment Beyond its theoretical contribution this book is policy relevant in that it explains and predicts the external conduct of what is arguably the Middle East s most consequential actor with implications reverberating far beyond the region Academic in conception and rigor the book is intended not only for specialists and practitioners but appeals to the lay reader interested in the broader Middle East West Asia the region s relationship with major powers and regional conflict dynamics whose roles are not covered sufficiently in international relations discourse Utpal Vyas demonstrates ways in which soft power is a useful analytical tool to understand relations between China and Japan in the early 2000s The case studies help to reveal the complexities of interaction between China and Japan beyond the usual state level analyses and offer a valuable resource for the study of Sino Japanese relations and IR in general This book will be of interest to academics and postgraduate students in Japanese studies Chinese studies and International Relations University of Chicago
