Problem Of Atlantis 1924:

Contesting Earth's History in Transatlantic Literary Culture, 1860-1935 Richard Fallon, 2025-02-14 By the mid nineteenth century geologists and palaeontologists had reconstructed an authoritative narrative of Earth's deep history from the planet's molten origins to the rise of humanity Many figures in transatlantic science across subsequent decades however had problems with this narrative it was too secular inhuman and evolutionary or controlled too exclusively by elite scientists Speaking from palaeoscience's unevenly professionalized and controversy racked borders Christian fundamentalists charismatic psychics and respected scholars alike voiced their objections Until now no study has brought their work together for detailed comparative analysis Spanning from the 1860s to the interwar decades Contesting Earth's History examines the fascinating stories of five significant examples of fringe or borderline palaeoscience old and young earth creationism hollow earth theory clairvoyant time travel and sunken continent catastrophism Innovatively combining methods from literary studies with the history of science this book attends not just to the conceptual content of these strange sciences but also to their proponents communication of truth claims through diverse genres ranging from the scientific textbook and the technical monograph to the lost world romance and the epic poem By paying close attention to the hitherto overlooked textual forms and literary strategies of these works of pseudoscience this volume throws into relief the variant conceptions of audience evidence and method that jostled and competed in wider scientific culture during this period It also demonstrates that for all their diversity authors of borderline palaeoscience shared the desire to shift the balance of power creating textual spaces where exclusive hierarchies of scientific expertise could be levelled away These conjurers of lost worlds often captivated wide audiences and many of their bizarre astonishing and iconoclastic ideas remain with us to this day Some even inspired early science fiction by the likes of H P Lovecraft and Edgar Rice Burroughs Hijacking geologists and palaeontologists longstanding effort at making the prehistoric past visible authors on the borderlines of palaeoscience asserted their right to scientific authority and encouraged readers to gaze into time's abyss with bold new eyes

Books of 1912- 1922 Books of 1921-1925 Chicago Public Library, 1927 The Unsettlement of America Anna Brickhouse, 2015 The Unsettlement of America explores the career and legacy of Don Luis de Velasco an early modern indigenous translator of the sixteenth century Atlantic world who traveled far and wide and experienced nearly a decade of Western civilization before acting decisively against European settlement The book attends specifically to the interpretive and knowledge producing roles played by Don Luis as a translator acting not only in Native European contact zones but in a complex arena of inter indigenous transmission of information about the hemisphere The book argues for the conceptual and literary significance of unsettlement a term enlisted here both in its literal sense as the thwarting or destroying of settlement and as a heuristic for understanding a wide range of texts related to settler colonialism including those that recount the story of Don Luis as it is told and retold in a wide array of diplomatic religious historical epistolary and literary writings from the middle of the sixteenth century to the middle of the twentieth Tracing accounts of this elusive and complex unbounding father from the colonial era as they unfolds across the centuries The Unsettling of America addresses the problems of translation at the heart of his story and speculates on the implications of the broader transhistorical afterlife of Don Luis for the present and future of hemispheric American studies
