Making Life Meaningful:

Meaning in Life Thaddeus Metz, 2013-10 What makes a person's life meaningful Thaddeus Metz argues that no existing theory does full justice to the key requirements of morality enquiry and creativity He offers a new answer to the question meaning in life is a matter of intelligence contoured toward fundamental conditions of human existence Human

Interests Nicholas Rescher, 1990 Philosophical anthropology is the philosophical study of the conditions of human existence and the issues that confront people in the conduct of their everyday lives This book surveys from a contemplative philosophical point of view a wide variety of human interest issues including happiness luck aging the meaning of life optimism and pessimism morality and faith and belief The author's deliberations blend historical theoretical and personal perspectives into philosophical appreciation of the human condition The philosophers of Greek antiquity took philosophy to center around just this issue of intelligent living of determining the nature of life under the guidance of reason Such a perspective puts philosophical agenda a position it contested with the philosophy of nature throughout classical antiquity In more recent times however its prominence has declined no doubt the author suggests because modern man's achievements have been more notable in the natural than in the human science Finding Meaning in an Imperfect World Iddo

Landau, 2017-07-01 Is life meaningless Does life have enough meaning to make it feel worthwhile If we think our lives lack meaning what can we do about it Finding Meaning in an Imperfect World answers these and other difficult questions while confronting head on famous recurrent theories that insist on life's meaninglessness Landau shows us how to single out what is meaningful explains why we sometimes fail to recognize meaning and suggests ways in which we can resensitize ourselves to it COVID-19 and Existential Positive Psychology (PP2.0): The New Science of Self-Transcendence Paul T. P.

Wong, Claude-Hélène Mayer, Gökmen Arslan, In the era of COVID 19 many people have suffered high levels of stress and mental health problems To cope with the widespread of suffering physical psychological social and economical the positive psychology of personal happiness is no longer the sole approach to examine personal wellbeing Other approaches such as Viktor Frankl's theory of self transcendence provide a promising framework for research and intervention on how to achieve resilience wellbeing and happiness through overcoming suffering and self transcendence The existential positive psychology of suffering complements the positive psychology of happiness which is championed by Martin Seligman as two equal halves of the circle of wellbeing and optimal mental health This Research Topic aims to examine the different approaches to Positive Psychology and their influence on individual wellbeing during the COVID 19 era One of the exciting development in the positive psychology of wellbeing is the mounting research on the adaptive benefits of negative emotions such as shame guilt and anger as well as the dialectical process of balancing negative and positive emotions As an example based on all the empirical research and Frankl's self transcendence model Wong has developed the existential positive psychology of suffering PP2.0 as the foundation for flourishing Here are a few main tenets of PP2.0 1 Life is suffering and a constant struggle throughout every stage of development 2 The search for self transcendence is a primary motive guided by the meaning mindset and mindful mindset 3 Wellbeing cannot be sustainable without overcoming and transforming suffering In this Research Topic we welcome diverse approaches discussing the following points The dialectic process of overcoming the challenges of every stage of development as necessary for personal growth and self transcendence The role of self transcendence in resilience virtue meaning and happiness The upside of negative emotions The new science of resilience based on cultivating the resilient mindset and character How to make the best use of suffering to achieve out potentials mental health
