Observing the Universe

Observing the universe is like looking at a giant book. The more you observe, the more you know. This is why ESA is so interested in building the most powerful telescopes ever built. They will help us answer some of the most important questions in science.

ESA is also interested in understanding the universe. We want to know how it works and how it has changed over time. We will use our telescopes to study the stars and planets that surround us. We will also look for signs of life on other planets.
