Loving Stones David L. Haberman, 2020-03-18 Loving Stones is a study of devotees' conceptions of and worshipful interactions with Mount Govardhan a sacred mountain located in the Braj region of north central India that has for centuries been considered an embodied form of Krishna It is often said that worship of Mount Govardhan makes the impossible possible In this book David L Haberman examines the perplexing paradox of an infinite god embodied in finite form wherein each particular form is non different from the unlimited He takes on the task of interpreting the worship of a mountain and its stones for a culture in which this practice is quite alien This challenge involves exploring the interpretive strategies that may explain what seems un understandable and calls for theoretical considerations of incongruity inconceivability and other realms of the impossible This aspect of the book includes critical consideration of the place and history of the pejorative concept of idolatry and its twin anthropomorphism in the comparative study of religions Loving Stones uses the worship of Mount Govardhan as a site to explore ways in which scholars engaged in the difficult work of representing other cultures struggle to make the impossible possible

And the Gods of Love Retired Krishna V. R. Muppavarapu, 2013-11-29 It is official Gods and goddesses of love are now contemplating retirement In a world filled with love the gods have started feeling a sense of redundancy But they are also happy that they can go into peaceful retirement and start practicing what they learned from the earthly goddesses and gods The nine short stories along with a series of improbable dreams deal with the psychology of love romance and amour Revolving around complex relationships that exist between men and women the stories encapsulate different moods/fantasies of a young woman and a young man intimacy misunderstandings and realizations the crests and troughs of relationships heart touching emotions and unconditional love
