

Why Performance Based Scheduling Works

The screenshot displays a project management software interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the company logo and user information. Below this, a search bar and several filters are visible. The main area shows a Gantt chart for a project named 'Project Phoenix'. The chart is organized into a grid with columns representing days of the week (Mon, Tue, Wed, Thu, Fri, Sat, Sun) and rows representing different project phases or tasks. Each cell in the grid contains a task name and a duration, such as 'Task A' (10/01/2023 - 10/02/2023). The tasks are color-coded: blue for standard tasks, orange for critical path tasks, and black for tasks that are currently active or in progress. The interface also includes a sidebar on the left with a tree view of the project structure.
