Primitive World Its Transformations:

The Primitive World and Its Transformations Robert Redfield, 1953 The Primitive World and Its Transformations, 1953 Anthropologists and the Rediscovery of America, 1886-1965 John S. Gilkeson, 2010-09-20 This book examines the intersection of cultural anthropology and American cultural nationalism from 1886 when Franz Boas left Germany for the United States until 1965 when the National Endowment for the Humanities was established Five chapters trace the development within academic anthropology of the concepts of culture social class national character value and civilization and their dissemination to non anthropologists As Americans came to think of culture anthropologically as a complex whole far broader and more inclusive than Matthew Arnold's the best which has been thought and said so too did they come to see American communities as stratified into social classes distinguished by their subcultures to attribute the making of the American character to socialization rather than birth to locate the distinctiveness of American culture in its unconscious canons of choice and to view American culture and civilization in a global perspective Modernization, Urbanization, and the Urban Crisis Gino Germani, 1973-01-01 Modernization Urbanization and the Urban Crisis Anthropology Previous Question Papers NET JRF Mocktime Publication, Anthropology Previous Question Papers NET JRF UGC CBSE Net Jrf previous year solved papers net jrf paper 1 and paper 2 net jrf paper I and paper II teaching and research aptitude paper 1 paper I net jrf exam guide manual books net jrf previous year questions mcq Development: Identities, representations, alternatives Stuart Corbridge, 2000 Brings together more than one hundred articles dealing with the discipline of development in all its diversity Key topics include the transformation of peasant economies agribusiness rural urban relations markets industrialization workers trade aid and structural adjustment A unique set in its comprehensiveness and diversity it also considers four key challenges for development theory and practice relating to capabilities ethics sustainability and regulation The Primitive World and Its Transformation Robert Redfield, 1977 Social Anthropology Kevin Jack Riley, Clifford Wilcox, 2017-07-28 Robert Redfield is remembered today primarily as an anthropologist but during his lifetime Redfield's cross disciplinary activity reflected a strong interest in infusing anthropological practice with sociological theory Like a handful of other anthropologists including A R Radcliffe Brown and Bronislaw Malinowski who shared his interests during the 1920s through 1930s his works came to define a new subfield known as social anthropology Redfield was distinct in being one of the first Americans to devote himself seriously to social anthropology a field dominated initially by British scholars He spent his career at the University of Chicago and his anthropology bore the distinct mark of sociology as developed and practiced at that institution Indeed Redfield played a major role in defining what has been called the second Chicago school of sociology This volume brings together Redfield's most important contributions to social anthropology During the 1920s sociology and anthropology constituted a single department at the University of Chicago Although most students concentrated on sociology or anthropology Redfield chose to pursue both fields with equal intensity He adopted as his central interest the leading problematic of the 1920s the study of social change Chicago School sociologists approached social change by examining zones of rapid transition within the city for example areas populated by recently arrived immigrants with the goal of elucidating general principles or dynamics of social transition Redfield s work can be seen as falling into three distinct theoretical categories 1 the study of social change or modernization 2 peasant studies and 3 the comparative study of civilizations Drawing from articles book excerpts and unpublished papers and letters this work presents Redfield s central contributions in each of these areas Seen as a whole this volume traces Redfield s seminal contributions to the early development of mo The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1967 Reason and Reality in Jurisprudence Jerome Hall,1958 Huxley Memorial Lecture ,1902 The History of Religions Joseph Mitsuo Kitagawa,1987 This volume collects essays by the renowned scholar and historian of religion Joseph M Kitagawa The collection is organized into three parts Part one presents essays examining such topics as the history of the discipline its place in the academy and some of its basic categories and tenets Part two offers what Kitagawa calls studies in applied history of religions These essays demonstrate how insights derived from the practice of the history of religions can be applied to the political and spiritual problems of the day In a third and concluding section Kitagawa reflects on his own intellectual heritage with essays on Joachim Wach Mircea Eliade D T Suzuki Gerardus van der Leeuw Paul Tillich and Hendrik Kraemer Encounters in Ethnomusicology Bruno Nettl,2002 Ethnomusicologist Bruno Nettl highlights the social and intellectual influences that shaped his world view and discusses how the study of music within its societal contexts has changed since the turn of the century Those concerned with the elements that form the basis for the study of ethnomusicology and the role of the ethnomusicologist will find this conceptual memoir intriguing as the author chronicles his life as a scholar from his birth in Prague his emigration to the U S and his adventures in the field collecting data and developing professionally within an academic environment This is Nettl s story of what it was like to participate in the development of ethnomusicology as a student teacher fieldworker author editor advisor and often just as an observer for half a century Books in Print ,1962 Historical Reflections ,1992 The Voice of Siouland Ole O. Moen,1978 Palestine and Its Transformation Ellsworth Huntington,1911 American Book Publishing Record Cumulative, 1950-1977: Title index R.R. Bowker Company.
