Management Issues In China Volume 1:

Management Issues in China: Volume 1 David H. Brown, Robin Porter, 2018-10-26 This book first published in 1996 examines the problems associated with the management of change particularly those brought about by the rapid pace of economic development in China in the reform period since 1979 China's managers were challenged as never before as the country integrated itself into the world economy introduced new technology and decentralized control over its industries This book discusses their successes and failures in chapters by specialists in Chinese management practice Management Issues in China John Child, 2018-11-05 As the 1990s progressed China began to emerge as an economic giant The chapters in this book first published in 1996 illustrate many aspects of China's path to internationalization They also raise important questions for further study What becomes clear is that to succeed in China's business environment foreign business strategists need to become better informed of the type of challenges that China presents Management in China Roger Strange, 1998 Looks at management attitudes in China since the recent economic reforms and what China can learn from Japan Behind the Open Door Daniel H. Rosen, 1999 This study describes the experiences of foreign invested firms in the mainland Chinese economy and discusses the implications of those experiences for the foreign commercial policies of the industrial countries including the United States It draws on extensive interviews with expatriate managers and other professionals currently at work in China Whereas recent books on Chinese marketplace conditions focus on a single firm or issue or lack a discussion of policy conclusions because they are prepared for a commercial audience this study is distinguished by the breadth of industry interviews and its concern for policy implications Rosen makes a rare attempt to deduce the policy implications of current experiences of foreign firms in China presenting conclusions that go beyond those found in today's usual policy debate Behind the Open Door is a must for China specialists and should be read by anyone with general or business interests in China or the Asia Pacific region The book is an ideal text for MBA programs that focus on the region and for political science and Asian studies courses on China Management, a Bibliography for NASA Managers, 1989 Hong Kong's Global Financial Centre and China's Development Yan-leung Cheung, Yuk-shing Cheng, Chi-keung Woo, 2016-12-08 This book provides an overview of Hong Kong's role as an international financial centre focusing especially on how Hong Kong has contributed significantly and continues to contribute significantly to China's economic development It considers the importance of Hong Kong's stock market in raising finance for Chinese companies explores the potential of Hong Kong as an offshore financial centre and discusses recent regulatory reforms It concludes by assessing the prospects for Hong Kong's continuing success as a global financial centre and puts forward recommendations for policies which would help secure continuing success Serials in the British Library, 2008 Management, 1986 Industrial Relations in China Bill Taylor, Kai Chang, Qi Li, 2003 This enlightening book provides the first systematic introduction to and exploration of the emerging system of industrial relations in China and draws on the authors extensive research and direct involvement in the developments taking place The authors argue that there are both unifying and fragmenting elements to the ongoing development of industrial relations but overall it is one in which the state continues to maintain a major and direct influence Divisions between workers and managers may be escalating with increased open conflicts but this book reveals that the picture is far more complex and contradictory than to assume that the solution is convergence with western style industrial relations systems They conclude that industrial relations institutions and processes still act within a political context and with the guiding hand of the Chinese Communist party Industrial Relations in China draws on up to date material and will ensure the book s appeal to industrial relations and Chinese scholars It will also appeal to a wider audience of Asian labour and development studies scholars 田原,1997 Management Issues in China David H. Brown,Robin Porter,1996

Chinese Business Negotiating Style Tony Fang,1999 Tony Fang is uniquely qualified to illuminate and explain Chinese negotiating practices for as a practitioner he sat on the Chinese side of the table and as a scholar he is fully up to date with Western social science knowledge He not only is in full command of the literature on Chinese negotiating style but he has brought to his analysis a broad perspective that extends to the institutional and ideological ways of Chinese Communism the Confucian tradition and the ancient Chinese writings on strategy and the ways for outwitting the enemy A careful reading of his book should reduce surprises and improve the performances of all who seek to deal with the Chinese Lucian W Pye Massachusetts Institute of Technology Cambridge Massachusetts Chinese Business Negotiating Style adds a valuable Chinese voice to the current Western dominated forum on Chinese business negotiating style This book provides the reader with an in depth sociocultural understanding of Chinese negotiating behaviors and tactics in Sino Western business negotiation context It addresses this fascinating and complex subject by looking systematically at various components of Chinese business culture which range from contemporary Chinese politics to ancient Chinese philosophies and military stratagems This book offers practical advice on negotiating and doing business effectively within the People s Republic of China Chinese Business Negotiating Style presents fresh approaches coherent frameworks and 40 reader friendly cases that will be particularly interesting to students academics and professionals in management international business communication international marketing intercultural studies industrial psychology sociology political science Asian studies public policy and negotiation mediation Bulletin of Bibliography and Dramatic Index ,1927 Millard's Review of
