Managing Arms in Peace Processes Virginia Gamba-Stonehouse,1998 SCOTT copy 1 From the John Holmes Library collection

Managing Arms in Peace Processes United Nations Institute for Disarmament Research,1996 The DCR Project explored the predicament posed by United Nations peace operations which focused on short term needs rather than long term stability The project is based on the premise that the control and reduction of weapons during peace operations can be a tool for ensuring stability This volume addresses key issues pertaining to demobilization disarmament and the control of weapons Publisher summary

Managing Arms in Peace Processes Eric Berman, Eric G. Berman, United Nations Institute for Disarmament Research,1996 From the John Holmes Library collection

Managing Arms in Peace Processes Andrei Raevsky,1996 From the John Holmes Library collection

United Nations Disarmament Processes in Intra-State Conflict S. Hill,2004-10-01 During the 1990s the United Nations was called upon to conduct unprecedented peacekeeping and humanitarian operations in order to bring peace to war torn states Essential to the resolution of these conflicts was deemed to be the disarmament of the former warring parties United Nations Disarmament Processes in Intra State Conflict therefore seeks to identify the most important lessons taught by the UN s experiences in disarmament and constructs an original analytical framework to explain the variation in the UN s success On this basis Stephen M Hill proffers recommendations for the UN s present and future disarmament operations

Managing Arms in Peace Processes Jeremy Ginifer, United Nations Institute for Disarmament Research,1995 This series of publications issued by the United Nations Institute for Disarmament Research emanates from their project on Disarmament a review of security actions where disarmament has been attempted an examination of the role that disarmament of belligerents can play in the management resolution of internal conflicts

Managing Arms in Peace Processes Paulo S. Wrobel, Guilherme Theophilo Gaspar de Oliverra,1997

Managing Arms in Peace Processes Clement Adibe, J. W. Potgieter,1995

Small Arms and Security Denise Garcia,2006-09-27 This book examines the emergence of new international norms to govern the spread of small arms and the extent to which these norms have been established in the policies and practices of states regions and international organizations It also attempts to establish criteria for assessing norm emergence and to assess the process of norm development by comparing what actually happens at the multilateral level If norm making on small arms and related multilateral negotiations have mostly dealt with illicit arms and most of the norms examined here fall on the arms supplier side of the arms equation the author argues that the creation of international norms and the setting of widely agreed standards amongst states on all aspects of the demand for availability and spread of both legal and illegal small arms and light weapons must become central to the multilateral coordination of policy responses in order to tackle the growing violence associated with small arms availability Small Arms and Security will be of interest to researchers and professionals in the fields of peace and conflict studies global governance international security and disarmament

Contemporary

Peace Making J. Darby, R. Mac Ginty, Roger Mac Ginty, 2002-12-19 Contemporary Peace Making draws on recent experience to identify and explore the essential components of peace processes Each chapter examines a different element in recent peace processes The collection is organized around five main themes planning for peace during periods of violence the process of negotiations including pre negotiation the effects of violence on peace processes peace accords constitutional and political options and securing the settlement and building the peace

Nordic Approaches to Peace Operations Peter Viggo Jakobsen, 2006 A new examination of Nordic approaches to peace operations after the Cold War It shows how the Nordic countries Denmark Finland Norway and Sweden remain relevant for the study and practice of post Cold War peace operations This unique study is structured around eleven success conditions derived from an analysis of the lessons learned since the early 1990s ensuring that the results of the case studies are directly comparable These case studies are supplemented by an analysis of Nordics collective efforts to replace their old Cold War peacekeeping model with a new one that meets the requirements of the new era The overall conclusion is that the Nordics have succeeded in meeting the post Cold War requirements for success both individually and collectively and that a new effective model is in the making This book makes several important contributions to the literature on peace operations First it demolishes the widely held view that the Nordic countries remain a bastion of traditional Cold War peacekeeping with little relevance for contemporary operations Second it constitutes the first systematic overview of the reforms undertaken by the four Nordic countries since the end of the Cold War Third it fills a historical gap by providing a comprehensive analysis of the celebrated old Nordic Cold War model explaining how and why it developed and how it functioned Finally the analytical framework is a general tool which can be used to evaluate the approaches to peace operations employed by countries around the world This book will be of great interest to all students of peacekeeping peace studies security studies and IR in general
