Managing Correctional Crisis:

Managing Correctional Crises John M. McCullough, 2006 This book explains how to handle prison and jail crises such as violence hunger strikes suicides hostage takings and riots using real examples Topics covered include the various stages of crisis from indications of impending crises and what starts disturbances general guidelines for managing a crisis and how to handle specific types of crises

Crisis Management in Community Corrections Correctional Service Canada. Task Force on Crisis Management in Community Corrections, 1990 The Task Force reviewed the existing state of crisis management in community corrections noting weaknesses that resulted in a poor ability to prevent critical situations from becoming crisis situations that threaten the credibility of community corrections The Report recommended the adoption of a new policy framework for crisis management The Community Interaction Model of crisis response consists of four interrelated phases planning response recovery and conciliation all seen as a continuous process rather than as a one off response to a particular event This model is described in some detail and an implementation process is suggested

Community-managed Corrections Roger J. Lauen, 1990 This report analyzes the origins of the American prison overcrowding crisis by examining the historical roots of incarceration the use of incarceration in the last century and the misuse and overuse of incarceration today It then presents a plan to reduce the use of incarceration by placing more nonviolent offenders in expanded community based programs

Impossible Jobs in Public Management Erwin C. Hargrove, John C. Glidewell, 1990 If you think your job is hopelessly difficult you may be right Particularly if your job is public administration Those who study or practice public management know full well the difficulties faced by administrators of complex bureaucratic systems What they don't know is why some jobs in the public sector are harder than others and how good managers cope with those jobs Drawing on leadership theory and social psychology Erwin Hargrove and John Glidewell provide the first systematic analysis of the factors that determine the inherent difficulty of public management jobs and of the coping strategies employed by successful managers To test their argument Hargrove and Glidewell focus on those jobs fraught with extreme difficulties impossible jobs What differentiates impossible from possible jobs are 1 the publicly perceived legitimacy of the commissioner's clientele 2 the intensity of the conflict among the agency's constituencies 3 the public's confidence in the authority of the commissioner's profession and 4 the strength of the agency's myth or long term idealistic goal Hargrove and Glidewell flesh out their analysis with six case studies that focus on the roles played by leaders of specific agencies Each essay summarizes the institutional strengths and weaknesses specifies what makes the job impossible and then compares the skills and strategies that incumbents have employed in coping with such jobs Readers will come away with a thorough understanding of the conflicting social psychological and political forces that act on commissioners in impossible jobs
