

The OFFENSIVE GOLFER

A HANDBOOK FOR COMPULSIVE HACKERS

by DICK
BROOKS

© MW Books

"Oh, no-no!" The "Baker's yell" is often heard on courses, but it more commonly comes from deep bunkers. It is definitely not recommended for the offensive golfer, as it tells everyone you have missed another shot in the trap, a shot that might well go unnoted if the bunker is deep and your opponent some distance away. Keep quiet and you may get away with calling such shots practice swings, although after two or three it does build suspicion.

"Down up, never in." A really useful comment spoken when a putt falls short; it is only included here as one more thing that can be spoken from the subconscious without thinking and without excepting from your Hypnotic Stress Lock, yet giving the impression that you are a successful human being.

"You're away!" Said to be the only words ever spoken by Ben Hogan during a match, this simple direct statement of fact can be repeated by the truly offensive golfer, even on unprepared notes, keeping them on an already nervous player.
