Joint Economic Committee, 1991 Visualising China, 1845-1965 Christian Henriot, Wen-hsin Yeh, 2012-11-09 In Visualizing China the authors launch a broad inquiry aimed at a synergistic understanding of the story of visuality in modern China The essays cluster around several nodal points including photographs advertising posters and movies from the 1840s to the 1960s China's Foreign Trade ,2005 Archaeologies of Food in Australia Madeline Shanahan, 2025-11-01 Twenty first century Australia is a nation somewhat obsessed with food From cookbooks to television screens we are surrounded by conversations about what and how we eat This fixation highlights the fact that food is and always has been a central component of human culture especially in a diverse nation like Australia In recent years this contemporary food focus has increasingly looked to the past for answers relating to health and sustainable practices While historians in Australia have contributed extensively to these discussions there has been surprisingly little input from archaeologists This is even more surprising when we consider that so much of what archaeologists excavate such as faunal remains ceramics and cesspits can collectively tell the story of food culture when drawn together and considered as a whole To open up this dialogue Archaeologies of Food in Australia addresses the archaeology of food from deep time to the recent past It showcases the many varied approaches to the study of food in Australia from the archaeological sciences such as zooarchaeology and archaeobotanical analysis through to discussions of historic kitchens and cookery Archaeologies of Food in Australia spans diverse cultural groups including First Nations peoples European migrants and Chinese diaspora communities and examines evidence across millennia Contributors demonstrate the breadth and richness of archaeological food research currently undertaken in Australia and in doing so they address critical questions about diet cookery dining and food culture In this collection eight food stories from Australia s past have been selected to help open the door to many more readers and to many more questions The great depth of time and diversity in Australian archaeology when coupled with the broad range of skills in the discipline presents enormous potential for further research Global Economic and Technological Change United States. Congress. Joint Economic Committee. Subcommittee on Technology and National Security, 1992 Cultural Heritage in Modern Conflict Timothy Clack, Mark Dunkley, 2022-09-09 This edited volume offers an in depth study of heritage and warfare from the perspective of defence studies The book focuses on how in different contexts heritage can be a catalyst and target of conflict an obstacle to stabilisation and a driver of peace building It documents the changing role of heritage in terms of both exploitation and protection in various military capabilities theatres and operations With particular concern for the areas of subthreshold and hybrid warfare stabilisation cultural relationships human security and disaster response the
