A Man Like Any Other Mary Cavanagh, 2008 Father Ewan McEwan is the chaplain of Waldringhythe a Cistercian Abbey on the Suffolk coast Despite his binding vows as a Roman Catholic priest he has for most of his adult life secretly enjoyed a passionate and devoted affair with Marina Proudfoot When Marina dies his profound grief forces Father McEwan to follow his own unique instruction To know yourself is to understand yourself and memory is the only key Thus he tells his life story from the mystery of his early childhood his moral dilemmas as a young adult his world fame as the subject of a controversial iconic photograph and his present as a sinning priest Marina's own posthumous story is told with great warmth and humour through her scandalous revelations The Tales From The Purple Handbag It soon becomes apparent that Marina is certainly not the refined Lady of the Manor she purports to be Marina's son Timothy mourning her deeply is faced with the emerging ghosts and demons of his own troubled past and gradually he sinks into a fragile emotional state that needs careful handling His lover Roger Fuller has always detested Marina and is delighted to be rid of her He immediately leaves his marital home to move in with Timothy but with little sensitivity or ability to understand Timothy's emerging collapse reveals himself as selfish shallow and ambivalent Sally Roger's wife is confused and angry When he leaves she escapes to the sanctuary of Waldringhythe Abbey where she encounters the powerful allure of Father Ewan

A D'Angelo Like No Other Carole Mortimer, 2014 When trouble comes in twos Michael D Angelo may be the driving force behind the successful Archangel galleries but it doesn't mean he's perfect he lost his halo years ago Yet when a delectable woman shows up in Paris claiming he's the father to twins it's one mistake Michael is certain he's not responsible for Fiery Eva Foster won't walk away until the twins in her charge are reunited with their father Now the one person she'd hoped would help is the only person standing in her way A line has been drawn in the sand but when the spark between them catches all bets are off

Beauty and the Beast Michael Taussig, 2012-07-30 Beauty and the Beast begins with the question Is beauty destined to end in tragedy Drawing on extensive fieldwork in Colombia Michael Taussig scrutinizes the anxious audacious and sometimes destructive attempts people make to transform their bodies through cosmetic surgery and liposuction He balances an examination of surgeries meant to enhance an individual's beauty with an often overlooked counterpart surgeries performed often on high profile criminals to disguise one's identity Situating this globally shared phenomenon within the economic cultural and political history of Colombia Taussig links the country's long civil war and its bodily mutilation and torture to the beauty industry at large sketching Colombia as a country whose high aesthetic stakes make it a stage where some of the most important and problematic ideas about the body are played out Central to Taussig's examination is George Bataille's notion of deperdition or wasting While deperdition is often used as a critique Taussig also looks at the exuberance such squandering creates and its position as a driving economic force Depense he argues is precisely what these procedures are all about and the beast on the other side of beauty should not be dismissed as simple recompense At once theoretical and colloquial public and intimate Beauty and the Beast is a true to place ethnography written in Taussig's trademark voice that tells a thickly layered but always accessible story about the lengths to which people will go to be physically remade
