South Street Barbara Mensch,2009-11-26 South Street is Barbara G Mensch s evocative tribute to the lost world of Lower Manhattan s Fulton Fish Market For more than a century a colorful tightly knit community of fishmongers many of them recent immigrants and children of immigrants thrived under the base of the Brooklyn Bridge Resistant to government regulations and corporate encroachment these men lived in a closed internally policed world that was deeply hostile to outsiders As a young photographer in the early 1980s Mensch bonded with this particular group of authentic New Yorkers becoming a confidante for their life stories which were often filled with hardship mystery and misadventures These striking photographs capture the unique personality and fierce secrecy of their vibrant working class culture Combined with lively commentary reminiscent of Studs Terkel s riveting oral histories the images offer a rare peek inside a society described by

Philip Lopate as a precious last vestige of historic Gotham Mensch's story ends with the closure of the docks and the opening of the Seaport mall a symbolic victory of corporate interests over more than a century of mob rule Her visual essay recounts the driving forces and the effects of this urban transformation on the entrenched community of fishmongers creating an enduring historical document Though the Fulton Fish Market no longer resides below the Brooklyn Bridge the history and energy of this cherished New York City landmark are beautifully preserved in this book Empire Statesman Robert A. Slayton, 2001 Born to Irish immigrants on the Lower East Side of Manhattan Al Smith was the earliest champion of immigrant Americans In 1928 Smith became the first Catholic to run for the presidency but his candidacy was fiercely opposed by the KKK and his campaign was wiped out by a tidal wave of anti Catholic hatred After years of hardship Smith reconciled his soured relationships with political bigwigs and once again became a generous heroic figure Photos New York Cookbook Molly O'Neill, 1992 The food columnist for the New York Times Magazine spent five years writing this insalata of favorite recipes restaurant and shopping recommendations and food lore from Pelham Bay to Park Avenue Seafood Leader, 1993 Coastlines, 2002 The Journal of Gastronomy, 1990 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2001 Classic Russian Cooking Elena Molokhovet[s], 1992 First published in 1861 this bible of Russian homemakers offered not only a compendium of recipes but also instructions about such matters as setting up a kitchen managing servants shopping and proper winter storage Joyce Toomre has superbly translated and annotated over 1 000 recipes and has written a thorough and fascinating introduction that discusses the history of Russian cuisine and summarizes Elena Molokhovets advice on household management A treasure trove for culinary historians serious cooks and cookbook readers and scholars of Russian history and culture Jim Kobak's Kirkus Reviews, 1989 Seaport, 1987 Library Journal, 1990 Includes beginning Sept 15 1954 and on the 15th of each month Sept May a special section School library journal ISSN 0000 0035 called Junior libraries 1954 May 1961 Also issued separately Kirkus Reviews, 1989 Adult books are categorized by genre i e fiction mystery science fiction nonfiction Along with bibliographic information the expected date of publication and the names of literary agents for individual titles are provided Starred reviews serve several functions In the adult section they mark potential bestsellers major promotions book club selections and just very good books in the children's section they denote books of very high quality The unsigned reviews manage to be discerning and sometimes quite critical The Publishers Weekly, 1988 The Cumulative Book Index, 1990 A world list of books in the English language Art in America Frank Jewett Mather, Frederic Fairchild Sherman, 1996
