Revolution Inaugural Issue:

Repeating Revolutions Timothy Scott Johnson, 2025-01-16 Repeating Revolutions examines how activists intellectuals social scientists and historians looked to France's Revolutionary past to negotiate Algeria's struggle for decolonization from the 1930s to the 1960s The French Empire justified their claims over Algeria in part through messages of universal progress marked by the political visions tied to the French Revolution Supporters of Algerian independence confronted those historical claims by identifying the Algerian cause with the French Revolution and by highlighting the apparent contradictions between the history of 1789 and imperial rule Far right activists meanwhile saw the movement to decolonize Algeria as another manifestation of the revolutionary disorder stemming from the French Revolution Behind these analogies lay broader changes in the study of North African society and contemporary political relevance of the French Revolution The focus on analogies to the French Revolution puts different sets of actors in conversation with one another and offers a fresh take on how people's experiences and expectations changed throughout the Algerian War This book will appeal to readers interested in the intellectual history of decolonization the historiography of the French Revolution the historiography of North African studies and questions of historical comparison and conceptual change The introduction of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Azeri Turkish Narratives in Twentieth-Century Iran Leila Rahimi Bahmany, 2025-09-30 Modern Azeri Turkish prose narratives emerged towards the end of the Second World War a period marked by the rise of multiple hostile ideological trends including Aryanism centralism nationalism and archaism all seeking to eradicate the Azeri Turkish language Azeri Turkish was framed as a linguistic threat to be eliminated as monolingualism seen as a prerequisite for a unified nation state became one of the main state projects of the Pahlavis in their attempt to create a homogenised Persianised Aryan nation Yet despite a century of systematic Persianisation literature in Azeri Turkish not only endured but continues to thrive in Iran to this day This book introduces short stories novels and memoirs in Azeri Turkish from the 1940s to the end of the twentieth century situating them within the historical and political events of the time from the rise of the Azerbaijan People's Government to the Iranian Revolution and beyond It analyses the author's engagement with the questions of forced monolingualism institutionalised assimilation policies and centre periphery relations revealing the dissident nature of this minority literature It shows how the persistent marginalisation of Azeri Turkish literature along with the constant revisitation of the region's dark historical periods has shaped much of this literature as trauma narratives Finally it advocates for vitalising Iranian literary studies by embracing linguistic and cultural diversity

Flying Minds of Venerable Elders Qingquan Xu, 2025-11-01 The Red Guard Generation and Political Activism in China Guobin Yang, 2016-05-17 Raised to be flowers of the nation the first generation born after the founding of the People's Republic of China was united in its political outlook and at first embraced the Cultural Revolution of 1966 but then split into warring factions Investigating the causes of this fracture Guobin Yang argues that Chinese youth engaged in an imaginary revolution from 1966 to 1968 enacting a political mythology that encouraged violence as a way to prove one's revolutionary credentials This same competitive dynamic would later turn the Red Guard against the communist government Throughout the 1970s the majority of Red Guard youth were sent to work in rural villages where they developed an appreciation for the values of ordinary life From this experience an underground cultural movement was born Rejecting idolatry these relocated revolutionaries developed a new form of resistance that signaled a new era of enlightenment culminating in the Democracy Wall movement of the late 1970s and the Tiananmen protest of 1989 Yang's final chapter on the politics of history and memory argues that contemporary memories of the Cultural Revolution are factionalized along these lines of political division formed fifty years before

The Unsung Hero of the Russian Avant-Garde: The Life and Times of Nikolay Punin

Natalia Murray, 2012-06-27 This book is the first biography of Nikolay Punin 1888-1953 One of the most prominent art critics of the avant garde in 1919 Punin was the Commissar of the Hermitage and Russian Museums he was lecturing at the Academy of Arts and at the State University in Petrograd and subsequently Leningrad He was the right hand of Lunacharsky and the head of the Petrograd branch of the Visual Arts Department of Narkompros From 1913 till 1938 Punin worked at the Russian Museum and organized several major exhibitions of Russian art Yet his name is not widely known in the West primarily because his file languished in the KGB archives since he died in 1953 partly because his grave in the Gulag where he died is marked only by a number and partly because his own reputation became submerged under that of his lover poet and writer Anna Akhmatova Through the life and inheritance of Nikolay Punin this book will examine the very phenomenon of the Russian avant garde and its fate after the October Revolution as well as the artistic trends and cultural policies which dominated Soviet art in the 1930-1950s For an interview with the author on The Voice of Russia July 19th 2012 click here
