Revival Of Dresden:

The Revival of Dresden Wolfram Jäger, C. A. Brebbia, 2000 In 1945 towards the end of the Second World War the ancient City of Dresden was destroyed by massive bombardments and much of its rich architectural heritage appeared to have been obliterated forever Over the last half century however Dresden has been lovingly reconstructed with the active collaboration of its citizens This process now culminating in the rebuilding of the Frauenkirche the Church of Our Lady is documented in this unique book

Beyond Berlin Gavriel D. Rosenfeld, Paul B. Jaskot, 2008-02-27 Beyond Berlin breaks new ground in the ongoing effort to understand how memorials buildings and other spaces have figured in the larger German struggle to come to terms with the legacy of Nazism The contributors challenge reigning views of how the task of coming to terms with the Nazi Past Vergangenheitsbewältigung has been pursued at specific urban and architectural sites Focusing on west as well as east German cities whether prominent metropolises like Hamburg dynamic regional centers like Dresden gritty industrial cities like Wolfsburg or idyllic rural towns like Quedlinburg the volume's case studies of individual urban centers provide readers with a more complex sense of the manifold ways in which the confrontation with the Nazi past has directly shaped the evolving form of the German urban landscape since the end of the Second World War In these multidisciplinary discussions of important intersections with historical art historical anthropological and geographical concerns this collection deepens our understanding of the diverse ways in which the memory of National Socialism has profoundly influenced postwar German culture and society Scholars and students interested in National Socialism modern Germany memory studies urban studies and planning geography industrial design and art and architectural history will find the volume compelling Beyond Berlin will appeal to general audiences knowledgeable about the Nazi past as well as those interested in historic preservation memorials and the overall dynamics of commemoration

Placing Nature on the Borders of Religion, Philosophy and Ethics Dr Forrest Clingerman, Mr Mark H Dixon, 2013-06-28 The natural world has been humanized even areas thought to be wilderness bear the marks of human impact But this human impact is not simply physical At the emergence of the environmental movement the focus was on human effects on nature More recently however the complexity of the term nature has led to fruitful debates and the recognition of how human individuals and cultures interpret their environments This book furthers the dialogue on religion ethics and the environment by exploring three interrelated concepts to recreate to replace and to restore Through interdisciplinary dialogue the authors illuminate certain unique dimensions at the crossroads between finding value creating value and reflecting on one's place in the world Each of these terms has diverse religious ethical and scientific connotations Each converges on the ways in which humans both think about and act upon their surroundings And each radically questions the damaging conceptual divisions between nature and culture human and environment and scientific explanation and religious ethical understanding This book self consciously reflects on the intersections of environmental philosophy environmental theology and religion and ecology stressing the importance of how place interprets us and how we interpret place In addition to its contribution to environmental philosophy this work is a unique volume in its serious engagement with theology and religious studies on the issues of ecological restoration and the meaning of place
