Effective Management and Evaluation of Information Technology Robert J. Thierauf, 1994-08-23 Today's MIS manager must understand and apply the latest thinking on the crucial management functions: planning, organizing, directing, and controlling. Moreover, not only must managers understand the research-based foundations underlying this thinking; they must also know how to leverage the new MIS technologies and incorporate them into it. Thierauf's new book guides managers through the technology/managerial function interface, explains latest research and its applications, and then provides MIS managers, their external auditors, and consultants with a unique questionnaire to help them assess the performance of their MIS groups and their own managerial effectiveness. With illustrations, checklists, guidelines, and unusual clarity of presentation, not only will Thierauf's book help MIS managers and those they report to understand better their day-to-day tasks, but it will also shed new light on the technologies themselves and their inevitable work impacts.

Decision Support Systems Ralph H. Sprague (Jr.), Hugh J. Watson, 1989 The conceptual foundation for DSS. Developing and using DSS. The architecture for DSS. Creating the DSS environment. The evolving DSS domain. DSS application. DSS bibliography. Index.

Management Information Systems James O'Brien, 2010 Overview. The benchmark text for the syllabus organized by technology: a week on databases, a week on networks, a week on systems development, etc., taught from a managerial perspective. O'Brien defines technology and then explains how companies use the technology to improve performance. Real-world cases finalize the explanation.

Environment & Planning A, 1989 Community Information Service Management Guidelines Clark D. Rogers, Brian A. Vidic, 1995 The InfoWorks Partnership announces the release of the first book committed to bringing the communities of the world onto the information superhighway. The book is dedicated to providing the necessary information persons/organizations need to design/operate these local on-line services in any community around the world. A sampling of the topics covered in the book include: organizational structure, revenues, budgets, expenditures, personnel, hardware, software, acquisition, user support, working with Internet providers, development of World Wide Web sites, system security, comprehensive strategic planning, research, evaluation. Many sections contain tools used in practice, such as questionnaires, interview schedules. Anyone that is currently operating an on-line service in a community of any size should have this book residing on their desktop. It will also be used as supplemental reading for college/university courses in library information sciences, public administration, urban/regional planning, related fields. The on-line market continues to grow/evolve. Communities, colleges, organizations need a resource to make sense of the changes/designs necessary to guide a community through this information highway maze.
