2) a) Write $x^2 - 4x + 11$ in the form $(x - a)^2 + b$.

b) Hence, find the values of x that satisfy $x^2 - 4x + 11 = 0$, giving your answers in surd form.

3) The graph of $y = f(x)$ is drawn on the grid.

a) Draw the graph of $y = f(x) - 1$

b) Draw the graph of $y = -f(x)$

4) Anne and Nadine both have identical bags of counters. Both bags contain 5 green counters and n yellow counters. Anne takes a random counter from her bag and puts it in Nadine's bag. Nadine then selects a counter from her bag. The probability that Nadine selects a green counter is $\frac{1}{3}$.

Find the probability that Nadine selects a yellow counter given that Anne selected a yellow counter.

5) Solve this pair of simultaneous equations:

$$x^2 + y^2 = 5$$

$$y = 3x - 1$$

6) Complete the table of values for $y = 2^x$.

x	-2	-1	0	1	2	3	4
y

7) Simplify $\frac{4}{1 + \sqrt{7}}$

Burnham,Malcolm Groves,2022-07-19 It is not the role of schools to solve the climate crisis or any of the other multiple crises

now facing humankind But it is powerfully their role if they so choose to equip young people as well as possible to deal with the consequences of the serious problems they will be inheriting from their elders not betterers Could it be our collective failure to respond effectively to the threat of the climate emergency or the challenges of the pandemic has been shaped to a small but significant degree by the nature of the learning that happens in our schools and a failure to enable young people to learn appropriately there That question lies at the heart of this thought provoking new book as it unpicks the concept of deep learning for future sustainability This combines deep understanding with action and links both to moral purpose It is not enough just to be concerned about climate change awareness must lead to action The book draws on an eclectic range of sources case studies of actual practice critical perspectives and opportunities for reflection The authors argue that first and foremost it is for educators and leaders to get on as best they can in their own school context to do what is both necessary and right to secure learning fit for a just and sustainable future irrespective of governmental lead in these matters In doing so the authors set out some clear evidence informed principles for school development and leadership that are central to the success of that mission

Experiencing School Mathematics Jo Boaler, 1997 This is the first book of its kind to provide direct evidence for the effectiveness of traditional and progressive teaching methods It reports on careful and extensive case studies of two schools which taught mathematics in totally different ways Three hundred students were followed over three years and the interviews that are reproduced in the book give compelling insights into what it meant to be a student in the classrooms of the two schools The different school approaches are compared and analyzed using student interviews lesson observations questionnaires given to students and staff and a range of different assessments including GCSE examinations Questions are raised about the effectiveness of different teaching methods in preparing students for the demands of the real world and the 21st century the impact of setted and mixed ability teaching upon student attitude and achievement and gender and learning styles New evidence is provided for each of these issues The book draws some radical new conclusions about the ways that traditional teaching methods lead to limited forms of knowledge that are ineffective in non school settings The book will be essential reading for math teachers parents and policy makers in education
