premise that the events of the 11th of September 2001 must have had a major effect on two New York residents and two of the seminal authors of American letters Pynchon and DeLillo By examining implicit and explicit allusion to these events in their work it becomes apparent that both consider 9 11 a crucial event and that it has profoundly impacted their work From this important point the volume focuses on the major change identifiable in both authors work a change in the perception and conception of time This is not however a simple change after 2001 It allows at the same time a re examination of both authors work and the acknowledgment of time as a crucial concept to both authors throughout their careers Engaging with several theories of time and their reiteration and examination in both authors work this volume contributes both to the understanding of literary time and to the work of Pynchon and DeLillo Postmodern Sublime Joseph Tabbi,1995 Focusing on works by Norman Mailer Thomas Pynchon Joseph McElroy and Don DeLillo Joseph Tabbi finds that a simultaneous attraction to and repulsion from technology has produced a powerful new mode of modern writing the technological sublime

Don DeLillo: Mao II & Underworld (LOA #374) Don DeLillo,2023-10-17 The definitive edition of a modern master continues with 2 mid career masterpieces published here with new prefaces from the author This second volume in the Library of America DeLillo edition collects two extraordinary novels he published in the 1990s the peak of his career In the PEN Faulkner Award winning Mao II 1991 the celebrated novelist Bill Gray has withdrawn into seclusion his everyday affairs managed by a pair of assistants And yet within the protective solitude he has built for himself he still finds himself struggling with pills and with a novel he can t manage to complete A visit from a Swedish photographer who specializes in author portraits spurs him to shake off his world weariness and soon the reclusive writer is embarked on an unlikely journey to help broker the release of a poet held hostage by terrorists in Beirut Mao II writes the critic Sven Birkerts is DeLillo s strongest statement yet about the crisis of crises Namely that we are living in the last violet twilight of the individual and that the future belongs to crowds Underworld 1997 DeLillo s magnum opus and a book that ranks among the greatest of twentieth century novels is a sprawling ambitious and moving panorama of the postwar American experience It begins with a tour de force re imagination of one of the great moments in sports the decisive pennant game between the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers at the Polo Grounds in 1951 culminating in the now legendary shot heard round the world home run by Bobby Thomson In DeLillo s hands the excitement of the game is juxtaposed with something far more momentous the announcement of the Soviets first atomic test a coincidence that initiates a kaleidoscopic saga that is woven across more than four decades shuttling back and forth through time and mixing fictional characters with historical figures such as Lenny Bruce and J Edgar Hoover The novel is at once a profound meditation on our contemporary condition and a deeply personal book for its author drawing poignantly on his memories of growing up in the Bronx All of DeLillo is in Underworld writes Harold Bloom DeLillo s sense of America in the second half of the twentieth century is achieved perfectly Here is the ultimate gift for DeLillo fans and perfect introduction for readers interested in discovering or rediscovering a great American writer

Chinese Philosophy F.J. Adelman,2012-12-06 The idea of the present sixth volume in the Boston College Studies in Philosophy entitled Contemporary Chinese Philosophy was conceived by the editor several years ago before the current resumption of Chinese American political and economic amity occurred officially Several preceding volumes in this series had studied various aspects of Marxism especially Soviet Marxism Possibilities for dialogue between Christians and Marxists were discussed not only in the series but elsewhere too in various philosophical journals and books through the sixties and seventies It was only a natural outcome then to wonder about the same possibilities in regard to Chinese Marxism Hence I sent off to many potential contributors scholars in the field the following proposal seeking papers for a volume on Contemporary Chinese Philosophy The themes that should constitute the content of the articles were as follows 1 How rigidly do contemporary Chinese adhere to Marxism Leninism Naturally this means principally the educated persons but it might include the non academic segment of the people By Marxism Leninism here I mean the contemporary Soviet brand Hence I do not mean Marx's early writings or the developments of people like Kolakowski 2 Are they constrained to think in a kind of horizontal materialism or are they open to a species of transcendence that might include the God problem or a belief in another life after this one on earth 3 The Journal of the Polynesian Society Polynesian Society (N.Z.),1927 Vols for
