Salt Eaters:

The Salt Eaters Toni Cade Bambara, 1992-06-30 A community of Black faith healers witness an event that will change their lives forever in this hard nosed wise funny novel Los Angeles Times One of The Atlantic s Great American Novels of the Past 100 Years Set in a fictional city in the American South the novel also inhabits the nonlinear sacred space and sacred time of traditional African religion The New York Times Book Review Though they all united in their search for the healing properties of salt some of them are centered some are off balance some are frightened and some are daring From the men who live off welfare women to the mud mothers who carry their children in their hides the novel brilliantly explores the narcissistic aspect of despair and the tremendous responsibility that comes with physical spiritual and mental well being

Breathing Aesthetics Jean-Thomas Tremblay, 2022-08-29 In Breathing Aesthetics Jean Thomas Tremblay argues that difficult breathing indexes the uneven distribution of risk in a contemporary era marked by the increasing contamination weaponization and monetization of air Tremblay shows how biopolitical and necropolitical forces tied to the continuation of extractive capitalism imperialism and structural racism are embodied and experienced through respiration They identify responses to the crisis in breathing in aesthetic practices ranging from the film work of Cuban American artist Ana Mendieta to the disability diaries of Bob Flanagan to the Black queer speculative fiction of Renee Gladman In readings of these and other minoritarian works of experimental film endurance performance ecopoetics and cinema v rit Tremblay contends that articulations of survival now depend on the management and dispersal of respiratory hazards In so doing they reveal how an aesthetic attention to breathing generates historically culturally and environmentally situated tactics and strategies for living under precarity

We Pursue Our Magic Marina Magloire, 2023-08-29 Drawing on the collected archives of distinguished twentieth century Black woman writers such as Lucille Clifton Audre Lorde Toni Cade Bambara Lorraine Hansberry and others Marina Magloire traces a new history of Black feminist thought in relation to Afro diasporic religion Beginning in the 1930s with the pathbreaking ethnographic work of Katherine Dunham and Zora Neale Hurston in Haiti and ending with the present day popularity of Afro diasporic spiritual practices among Black women she offers an alternative genealogy of Black feminism characterized by its desire to reconnect with ancestrally centered religions like Vodou Magloire reveals the tension discomfort and doubt at the heart of each woman s efforts to connect with ancestral spiritual practices These revered writers are often regarded as unchanging monuments to Black womanhood but Magloire argues that their feminism is rooted less in self empowerment than in a fluid pursuit of community despite the inevitable conflicts wrought by racial capitalism The subjects of this book all model a nuanced Black feminist praxis grounded in the difficult work of community building between Black women across barriers of class culture and time

Novel Competition Evan Brier, 2024-04-16 Novel Competition describes the literary and institutional effort to make the American novel matter after 1965 During this era Hollywood movies popular music and other forms of mass produced culture vied with novels for a specific kind of prestige often figured as importance or relevance that had mostly been attached to novels in previous decades This trans media competition Brier argues is a crucial but largely unacknowledged event in the literary and economic history of the American novel In the face of it the novel lost some of the symbolic specialness it formerly held That loss in turn generated not just a much discussed rhetoric of crisis but also a host of unexamined intertwined effects on both literary form and the business of novel production Drawing on a range of novels and on the archives of publishers editors agents and authors Novel Competition shows how fiction s declining position in a transformed popular prestige economy reshaped the post 1965 American novel as art form cultural institution and commodity

Women, Philosophy and Literature Jane Duran,2007-01-01 New work on women thinkers often makes the point that philosophical conceptual thought is where we find it examples such as Simone de Beauvoir and the nineteenth century Black American writer Anna Julia Cooper assure us that there is ample room for the development of philosophy in literary works but as yet there has been no single unifying attempt to trace such projects among a variety of women novelists This book articulates philosophical concerns in the work of five well known twentieth century women writers including writers of color Duran traces the development of philosophical themes ontological ethical and feminist in the writings of Margaret Drabble Virginia Woolf Simone de Beauvoir Toni Cade Bambara and Elena Poniatowska presenting both a general overview of the author s work with an emphasis on traditional philosophical questions and a detailed feminist reading of the work

A Joyous Revolt Linda Janet Holmes,2014-05-12 At long last a book length biography celebrates Toni Cade Bambara a seminal literary cultural and political figure who was among the most widely read and frequently reviewed of the well regarded black women writers to emerge in the 1970s A Joyous Revolt Toni Cade Bambara Writer and Activist is the first ever full length biography of a trailblazing artist who championed black women in her fiction as well as in her life This incisive study provides a comprehensive treatment of Bambara s published and unpublished works and it also documents her emerging vision of her role as an agent of change The biography allows readers into the personal life of Bambara offering personal insights into a woman with a strong public persona and friendships with other celebrated artists of her era Perhaps most important for those seeking to understand and appreciate Bambara s legacy it connects her oeuvre to the context of her experience and places all of her wide ranging creative work in the context of her singular vision
