Reason, Truth, and Theology in Pragmatist Perspective

Paul D. Murray, 2004 In this work Paul Murray explores which style of rationality is most appropriate to Christian theology in the contemporary pluralist postfoundationalist postmodern context At its heart is a fresh consideration of the American pragmatist tradition focussing on the writings of Richard Rorty and Nicholas Rescher Where Rorty correctly diagnoses the failures of foundationalist objectivism Rescher's pragmatic idealism is presented as healing the ills in Rorty's own neo pragmatism The significant resonance between Rescher's view of rationality and Christian understanding of the trinity is explored In turn Donald MacKinnon's influential writings are presented as exemplifying just such an approach to theology Murray both articulates an enriched form of Christian postliberalism committed to receiving and learning from other traditions of thought and practice and probes the claim that the dynamics of human rationality can be expected to reflect the Trinitarian dynamics of God's being Paul Murray presents us here with an exhaustive and insightful study of recent pragmatic theory in which he sets up rhythms of healing and completion as well as interrogation particularly remarkable is his exploration of Christianity as the deep and in some sense final interlocutor of pragmatic tradition I strongly recommend this book Olivier Davis Professor of Christian Doctrine King's College London This is a mature wide ranging work that by uniting the intellectual and the practical carries both rational and ethical conviction It does equal justice to the classic teachings of Christianity and to the challenges to rethink them in dialogue with modern and postmodern approaches The result is a conception of Christianity both generously orthodox and deeply engaged with contemporary life and thought It is especially good to see the profound contribution of Donald MacKinnon understood and developed with such perception and relevance David F Ford Regius Professor of Divinity University of Cambridge Paul Murray is currently Lecturer in Systematic Theology within the Department of Theology at the University of Durham England He has previously held posts at St Cuthbert's Seminary Ushaw College Durham and Newman College of Higher Education Birmingham Essays of his exploring issues in philosophical theology science and theology and contemporary Roman Catholic theology have appeared in leading journals and edited collections This is his first monograph

Defending God's Existence for Teens William Hartley, 2026-01-31

Defending God's Existence for Teens is a clear thoughtful and confidence building guide for young readers who want their faith to make sense in a world full of questions Today's teens are surrounded by skepticism competing worldviews and constant pressure to believe that faith is outdated or irrational This book meets those challenges head on not with shallow answers or emotional appeals but with clarity honesty and respect for the mind Rather than asking teens to stop thinking this book invites them to think deeper It explores the big questions that sit beneath everyday beliefs Why does truth exist at all Why does logic work Why do right and wrong feel real Why can we know anything with confidence Step by step readers are guided to see that these realities are not accidents and cannot stand on their own They point to God as the necessary foundation for meaning knowledge morality and reason itself Written in an accessible conversational style this book introduces teens to worldview thinking and apologetics without overwhelming them Complex ideas are explained clearly and patiently helping readers understand why atheism naturalism and relativism ultimately fall short and why Christianity offers a coherent and satisfying explanation of reality Evidence is explored thoughtfully not as the foundation of faith but as confirmation of what is already true when God's Word is the starting point More than an intellectual defense this book also speaks to the heart It addresses doubt honestly showing that questions are not a threat to faith but often a pathway to deeper trust It encourages teens to defend their beliefs with gentleness humility and love keeping the gospel central rather than turning faith into arguments alone Readers are reminded that they are not responsible for winning debates but for living faithfully and confidently Perfect for teens youth groups Christian schools and families Defending God's Existence for Teens equips young believers to stand firm without arrogance think clearly without fear and live faithfully in a culture that constantly questions God This is not just a book about defending belief It is a guide to understanding reality strengthening faith and living with confidence on solid ground God-Walk Frederick Herzog,2008-07-01 Challenging and disturbing and ultimately healing Robert McAfee Brown author of Liberation Theology An Introductory Guide Frederick Herzog was Professor at the Duke University Divinity School He served on numerous commissions of the World Council of Churches and the United Church of Christ In the spring of 1970 he wrote the first North American article on liberation theology and in 1972 his Liberation Theology was published a study of the Fourth Gospel described by Robert McAfee Brown as a pioneer North American work In Justice Church Herzog continues his pioneering work with a North American methodology of liberation theology How to Walk in the Supernatural Power of God Guillermo Maldonado,2011-03-18 Experience Signs Wonders and Miracles Today The supernatural power and authority of God are available for today's believers just as they were during ancient biblical times for healings miracles and deliverances To help you grasp the full revelation of God's supernatural power Apostle Maldonado shares biblically based insights and tremendous testimonies to show you how to Experience God's anointing to be more effective in ministry Understand and operate in the supernatural Minister healing to the sick Hear the voice of God Protect yourself from deception Develop a faith for the miraculous Begin to experience the miraculous in your life And these signs will follow those who believe Mark 16:17 The holy truth, or, The coming reformation Hugh Junor Browne,1876 The Holy Truth; Or, The Coming Reformation, Universal and Eternal Because Founded on Demonstrable Truth.
