

The main national holiday in the United States is Independence Day or the 4th of July. It is a very important holiday, when Americans celebrate their independence from Great Britain and the birth of their nation. On that day people usually have picnics and watch fireworks at night.

The animal symbol of the United States is the bald eagle.

It has been a symbol of the country since 1782.

The people of America are very diverse and include Native Americans, people of European origin, Latin American origin, African Americans and Cajuns (French-Canadians).

The USA has a nickname "melting pot" because for many years people from around the world have come here to find a better place to live.

The United States of America is the fourth largest country in the world.

Each part of the country has its own traditions, customs and landscapes, from the frozen north of Alaska to the desert south in Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

The USA is made up from 50 states and one federal district, the District of Columbia.

Do you know why we can see the letters D.C. after the USA capital's name? Because there is a state Washington and a city Washington. In order not to mix them they put letters D.C. (district of Columbia) after a capital's name.

American flag is called "Stars and stripes". There are 50 stars for 50 American states and 13 stripes for the first 13 states.
