Serious reflections of Robinson Crusoe. - A vision of the angelic world. - The history of the life and surprising adventures of Mr. Duncan Campbell Daniel Defoe,1903 Physics-Based Vision: Principles and Practice Lawrence B. Wolff,Steven A. Shafer,Glenn E. MD Ph.D,2021-04-21 Compendium of Metaphysics IV discusses the subject of death as the process that involves the departure of the individual soul from its outermost garment of flesh physical body and the subsequent events that pertain to the progression of the soul through different realms of spiritual existence Dying is merely crossing a threshold that leads to a new life with different conditions Death is brought about by the will of the soul spirit when a cycle of incarnated life has reached its end Death as we understand it is really the biggest illusion of the material plane There is no death only a continuum of life Death is an interlude for reflection assessment integration and renovation prior to the undertaking of a new life period or reincarnation Both birth and death are intertwined and parts of a process of spiritual evolution We must change our attitude toward death since learning about it can help us to overcome the unjustified fear it inspires It is of out most importance to encounter death with knowledge and a positive state of mind for the moment of death greatly influences the intermission period and even further it has an impact on the following incarnation Mastery of dying is accomplished when the individual becomes capable of consciously and wisely returning the lower bodies and the soul to their respective sources on due time Dream work is essential to help us understand correctly the process of death and to advance on the path of spiritual growth
