Redefining The Third World:

Redefining the Third World Nana Poku, Lloyd Pettiford, 1999-01-12 Given the end of the cold war economic development of the Asia Pacific region the emergence of Neo Liberal democratisation and the further marginalisation of Africa in the global political economy this book provides a timely theoretical analysis of current trends in the third world global politics

Changing Security Agendas and the Third World Lloyd Pettiford, Melissa Curley, 1999-08-27 Security has long been a central organizing concept of International Relations Until the 1980s students of the discipline understood its simple essence in terms of the arms race and balances of power Then reflecting changes encouraged by both the inter paradigm debate and the so called third debate security underwent radical reconsideration The many attempts to redefine the concept led to a proliferation of terms such as true security global security common security and environmental security However these terms have often been used in confusing and contradictory ways In attempting to help students deal with this confusion this book outlines the theoretical tools at the disposal of students for their own rethinking of the concept of security The book will help students wishing to seriously engage with IR s security debate at whatever level and draws its own conclusions as part of this debate

Redefining security in the Middle East Tami Jacoby, Brent Sasley, 2018-07-30 For over five decades the Cold War security agenda was distinguished by the principal strategic balance that of a structure of bipolarity between the United States US and the Soviet Union USSR This book seeks to draw from current developments in critical security studies in order to establish a new framework of inquiry for security in the Middle East It addresses the need to redefine security in the Middle East The focus is squarely on the Arab Israeli context in general and the Palestinian Israeli context in particular The character of Arab Israeli relations are measured by the Israeli foreign policy debate from the 1950s to the 1990s A dialogue between Islam and Islamism as a means to broaden the terrain on which conflict resolution and post bipolar security in the Middle East is to be understood is presented The Middle East peace process MEPP was an additional factor in problematizing the military strategic concept of security in the Middle East The shift in analysis from national security to human security reflects the transformations of the post Cold War era by combining military with non military concerns such as environmental damage social unrest economic mismanagement cultural conflict gender inequity and radical fundamentalism By way of contrast to realist international relations IR theory developing world theorists have proposed a different set of variables to explain the unique challenges facing developing states Finally the book examines the significance of ecopolitics in security agendas in the Middle East An electronic edition of this book is freely available under a Creative Commons CC BY NC ND licence

Rethinking Third-World Politics James Manor, 2014-05-12 Providing a thorough reassessment of our understanding of politics in Third World societies this book contains some of the liveliest and most original analyses to have been published in recent years The severity of the political and economic crisis throughout Africa Asia and Latin America in the 1980s has highlighted the inadequacy of existing political science theories and the urgent need to provide new paradigms
