Yamada,2020-10-29 Preferential Education Policies in Multi ethnic China National Rhetoric Local Realities explores the cultural logic of China s preferential policy measures Similar in premise but different in practice and philosophy to American affirmative action the preferential policies evoke controversy on all sides from those who see the measures as insufficient to address problems of educational disparities between ethnic groups and from those who see the measures as reverse discrimination Yamada shows how the policy measures attempt to manage ethnic based contradictions and appease both majority and minority populations Handbook of Research on Policies and Practices for Assessing Inclusive Teaching and Learning Meletiadou, Eleni,2022-01-14 Inclusivity is a crucial factor in assessment design as fair assessment must reflect the needs of a diverse student body Assessment practices should also be culturally inclusive and supportive to all students while considering the needs of learners with disabilities and specific learning difficulties Educational institutions worldwide are adopting a range of principles using a variety of assessment methods and developing assessment literacy All these issues must be considered when researching inclusive assessment practices and policies The Handbook of Research on Policies and Practices for Assessing Inclusive Teaching and Learning discusses the needs of learners of any context background and culture This book strives to promote the importance of global inclusive assessment and teaching giving an understanding to educators and faculty of the negative effect uniform assessment and teaching strategies have on a diverse body of students Covering topics such as equitable design ethnic preferential policies and multilingual perspectives this book provides an indispensable resource for researchers practitioners educators teacher educators policymakers administrators program planners educational managers educational leaders professors and academicians A Comparative Analysis of Preferential Policies in the U.S.A., India and Malaysia Devanesan Nesiah,1989 Preferential Policies and Their Effects Thomas Sowell,Simon Walker,New Zealand Centre for Independent Studies,1989* State Intervention and Business in China Ding Lu,Zhimin Tang,1997 With a population of 1.2 billion and after two decades of spectacular growth China promises to become one of the largest economic powers and consumer markets of the next century This has made the country attractive to foreign investment This book examines China s preferential policies Language Policy and Planning in Universities Anthony J. Liddicoat,2018-10-18 In a world where higher education is increasingly internationalised questions of language use and multilingualism are central to the ways in which universities function in teaching research and administration Contemporary universities find themselves in complex linguistic environments that may include national level language policies local linguistic diversity an internationalised student body increasing international collaboration in research and increased demand for the use and learning of international languages especially English The book presents a critical analysis of how universities are responding these complexities in different contexts around the world The contributions show that language issues in universities are complex and often contested as universities try to negotiate the national and the international in their work In some contexts universities language policies and the ways in which they are implemented may have a negative impact on their ways of working In other contexts however universities have embraced multilingualism in ways that have opened up new academic possibilities for staff and students Collectively the chapters show that universities language policy and planning are a work in progress and that much further work is needed for universities to achieve their language goals This book was originally published as a special issue of Current Issues in Language Planning Fiscal Policy and Institutional Renovation in Support of Innovative Country Building Jia Kang,2020-12-06 Since the onset of the twelfth Five Year Plan China has been at the forefront as an innovative nation based on a carefully designed strategy Despite this it can be argued that the Chinese government requires a series of more effective and systematic fiscal and taxation policies This book analyses the status quo and possible optimization of China s fiscal and taxation policies By drawing comparisons with other countries as well as a practical investigation into the lessons China has drawn from elsewhere the author shows how a nation should make steadily growing and optimized financial investments in science and technology in order to foster the optimum environment for innovation It is shown that institutional innovation should be a systematic project which involves top level design and top down leadership This volume will be a useful reference for students scholars and policy makers who are interested in financial policy
