Long Range Deserter Henry Chesham, 1986 Long Range Deserter David Bingley, 1997 Broken Homes: A Study of Family Desertion and its Social Treatment Joanna C. Colcord, 2022-09-16

Joanna C Colcord's Broken Homes: A Study of Family Desertion and its Social Treatment is a seminal work that meticulously examines the multifaceted issue of family desertion. Through a blend of case studies, statistical analyses, and sociological insights, Colcord delves into the causes, consequences, and societal responses to this prevalent yet often overlooked social phenomenon. Her narrative is both compassionate and critical, offering a window into the lives affected by abandonment and the era's social policy frameworks. The book is a vital artifact in the literary continuum of social work, reflecting the progressive ambition of early 20th-century reforms within its rich historical context. As a pioneering social worker and a director at the Russell Sage Foundation, Joanna C Colcord's professional experience deeply informs her exploration in Broken Homes. Her passion for social justice and her first-hand encounters with the plight of disintegrated families lend authenticity and depth to her analysis. Colcord's voice echoes the cries for reform and understanding in an age where industrialization and urbanization were transforming the American family landscape. Scholars, policymakers, and anyone interested in the history of social welfare will find Broken Homes both enlightening and thought-provoking. Colcord's work offers vital lessons about the social constructions of family and the enduring impact of desertion on individuals and communities. It stands as a testimony to the complexities of family dynamics and an admonition for continual progress in social support systems. This book not only contributes to historical scholarship but also serves as a call to action for current and future generations to address the persistent challenges surrounding family cohesion and societal support mechanisms. A Study of Family Desertion ... Earle Edward Eubank, 1916

A German Deserter's War Experiences Julius Koettgen, 2013-11-25

A firsthand account of a German soldier's horrific experiences fighting in France and Belgium, culminating in his escape from military service. In 1913, Julius Koettgen, a pacifist and a socialist, was drafted into the ranks of sapper battalion No. 30. He dutifully fought in the ranks of the Kaiser's armies during 1914 and 1915 and saw action in France and Belgium, where he describes the terrible events which were to become known as the rape of Belgium and also details the extent of the fighting, including being forced to form part of a firing squad crossing the Meuse under heavy fire, using corpses as road-building materials, annihilating a cavalry charge hand to hand, bayonet fighting, and the awful events of the disastrous German retreat from the Marne. Koettgen also experienced the horrors of trench warfare and the famous Christmas truce of 1914. In 1915, he decided that enough was enough and escaped military life by deserting the colors and slipping through the lines to neutral Holland. His memoirs were published by a gleeful allied press under the title A German Deserter's War Experience. This English translation, edited and introduced by Emmy Award-winning historian Bob Carruthers, provides a rare primary source of insight into the German side during the crucial opening battles of the war and is essential reading for anyone with an interest in the Great War from the German
