Patterns of Infant Care in an Urban Community John Newson, Elizabeth Newson, 1969 Psychology for Teaching Assistants Christopher Arnold, Jane Yeomans, 2005 Teaching assistants need to have a particular understanding of how children's minds work and this book provides it. It outlines the psychology of human development, the psychology of learning and the psychology of institutions and groups, emphasizing multiple perspectives and contextualizing the information in the current debates and practices of special education and inclusion. In the sections on development and learning, particular attention is devoted to language development, the emotional impact of loss, including discovering disability in a child, the psychological effects of abuse, cognitive curricula, learning empowerment through independence. The section on institutions and groups looks particularly at processes in groups, leadership models, interpersonal communication, violence, aggression, and bullying, emancipatory psychology. Patterns of Infant Care in an Urban Community John Newson, 1974 He and She

Yvette Walczak, 2024-03-01 First published in 1988. He and She is about male attitudes to sex and gender in the 1980s. It examines the extent to which men consider themselves to be different from women in a number of areas including interests, aptitudes, friendships, and intimate relationships with partners and children. Issues of sex and gender are located within the varied settings of education and employment. Comparisons are made between ideal situations and attitudes and what men have been able to implement in practice. The book is based on interviews with 51 men aged from 17 to 90 from a variety of cultural and occupational backgrounds. Extensive use is made of verbatim material from interviews and biographical details. This information is conveyed to the reader against the backdrop of a historical perspective and studies and research on male/female issues. This book will be of interest to students of men's studies, gender studies, women's studies, and sociology.

Patterns of Care for the Subnormal Michael John Craft, Lewis Miles, 1967 Beginning Psychology Malcolm Hardy, Steve Heyes, 1999 This standard introductory text offers students a complete and accessible introduction to the central elements of psychology. Mothers and Fathers Kathryn C. Backett, 1982-06-18 Postnatal Depression Vivienne Welburn, 1980 The Penguin Book of Playgroups Joyce Lucas, Vivienne McKennell, 1974 Nursing Mirror and Midwives Journal, 1977 Education for Childbirth and Parenthood Elizabeth R. Perkins, 2017-12-15 Originally published in 1980, the setting of this book is in the practicalities of teaching on labour wards in antenatal clinics and in child health clinics. In such settings, health education about childbirth and parenthood is often an explicit and always implicit task for the health professional. The book results from several years' research on health service teaching methods and contains detailed studies of teaching in practice in clinics, in classes, and on wards by midwives, health visitors, physiotherapists, doctors, National Childbirth Trust teachers, and the writers of educational pamphlets. A number of transcripts of teaching sessions are presented to illustrate ways in which practitioners can develop more relevant and sensitive teaching strategies. The author shows that realistic goals are essential if the needs of learners who are also problematically patients and clients are to be met.

The book offers insights into professional problems which voluntary organisations concerned with the health service and with educational work with parents can use to help both themselves and their clients to make a more intelligent use of the facilities available A more practical but critical philosophy of antenatal teaching is advocated enabling all professionals involved to take a fresh look at their courses and clients
