

From the bestselling author of Cutting for Stone

The background is a painting of a tropical landscape. In the foreground, there is a body of water with green and blue reflections. A path leads from the water towards a cluster of palm trees. The sky is a mix of blue and orange, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. The overall style is impressionistic with visible brushstrokes.

Emotion and Learning: Contributions from Latin America Camilo Hurtado-Parrado,Carlos Gantiva,Leonardo A.
Ortega,Alexander Gómez-A, Lucas Cuenya,Javier Leonardo Rico,2020-05-11 Latin America has increased its share of world scientific publications by nearly twofold during the last two decades approximately from 2 to 4% Despite this positive trend the scholarly impact of scientific research produced in the region measured in terms of citation rate remains low Two interrelated factors that contribute to this situation is that most research groups tend to work in isolation or in local sporadic collaboration and results are often published in journals that are not indexed in major citation databases e g SCOPUS or Web of Science Ultimately part of Latin American high quality research seems to remain hidden from the rest of the world Over the last decades an important number of Latin American scientists have developed fruitful research agendas on questions on learning and emotion focusing on basic and or translational research with humans and other animal models and implementing diverse methodologies Notwithstanding the important contributions of these research programs Latin American research on emotion and learning has followed the overall trend of other research fields throughout the region namely remaining partially hidden from the large scientific community of the world This Research Topic aimed to engage researchers from Latin America to share their empirical and conceptual work on learning and emotion Ultimately this effort was expected to strengthen and integrate our regional community of experts enhance global networking and establish new challenges and developments for future investigation Red Water Judith Freeman,2003-04-08 In 1857 at a place called Mountain Meadows in southern Utah a band of Mormons and Indians massacred 120 emigrants Twenty years later the slaughter was blamed on one man named John D Lee previously a member of Brigham Young s inner circle Red Water imagines Lee s extraordinary frontier life through the eyes of three of his nineteen wives Emma is a vigorous and capable Englishwoman who loves her husband unconditionally Ann a bride at thirteen years old is an independent adventurer Rachel is exceedingly devout and married Lee to be with her sister his first wife These spirited women describe their struggle to survive Utah s punishing landscape and the poisonous rivalries within their polygamous family led by a magnetic industrious and considerate husband who was also unafraid of using his faith to justify desire and ambition The English Catalogue of
