

WHAT IS REFLECTION?

Reflection refers to the mental activity that allows us to think deeply and critically about our experiences, ideas, and actions.

It involves examining and analyzing our thoughts, feelings, and behaviors in order to understand their meaning and value.

Through reflection, we can gain a clearer perspective of ourselves, others, and the world around us. It helps us make more conscious decisions, learn from our mistakes, and grow personally.

Reflection invites us to question, to seek meaning, and to find purpose in our experiences.

Health Counseling Richard Blonna, Janice Loschiavo, Dan Watter, 2011 Health Wellness: Being Reflexive in Critical Educational and Social Research Geoffrey Shacklock, John Smyth, 1998 This book brings together a collection of case studies and readings on the subject of doing research in education. It differs from other texts in taking a personal view of the experience of doing research. Each author presents a reflexive account of the issues and dilemmas as they have lived through them during the undertaking of educational research. The collection fills the space often referred to in critical research as the phenomenon of the missing researcher. Coming from the researcher's own perspectives, their positions are revealed within a wider space that can be personal, political, social, and reflexive. With this approach, many issues such as ethics, gender, race, validity, reciprocity, sexuality, class, voice, empowerment, authorship, and readership are given a much-needed airing.
