Arlton, 1949 Nothing Censored, Nothing Gained Farrah Freibert, 2025-11-30 Nothing Censored Nothing Gained tracks how women and gay male entrepreneurs were central to the production distribution and exhibition of adult media in and adjacent to Los Angeles County and how these key players used industrial tactics to introduce new and more explicit forms of cultural production The book develops a queer media industry studies approach to analyse how these creative entrepreneurs ventured into the nascent commercial adult film industry by maneuvering around and sometimes colliding with cultural regulatory mechanisms of censorship Moving beyond representational approaches to censorship this book's novel examination of production distribution and exhibition provides insights into the industrial and cultural interworkings of historical adult media industries and how content is related to business developments and constraints Through this investigation the book assesses manifold modes of censorship ranging from bureaucratic restrictions on market availability to law enforcement's stringent policing of exhibition spaces under legal regimes including obscenity Ornithologies of Desire Travis V. Mason, 2013-09-03 Ornithologies of Desire develops ecocritical reading strategies that engage scientific texts field guides and observation Focusing on poetry about birds and birdwatching this book argues that attending to specific details about the physical world when reading environmentally conscious poetry invites a critical humility in the face of environmental crises and evolutionary history The poetry and poetics of Don McKay provide Ornithologies of Desire with its primary subject matter which is predicated on attention to ornithological knowledge and avian metaphors This focus on birds enables a consideration of more broadly ecological relations and concerns since an awareness of birds in their habitats insists on awareness of plants insects mammals rocks and all else that constitutes place The book's chapters are organized according to apparatus that is science as ecocritical tool flight and song Reading McKay's work alongside ecology and ornithology through flight and birdsong both challenges assumptions regarding humans place in the earth system and celebrates the sheer virtuosity of lyric poetry rich with associative as well as scientific details The resulting chapters interchapter and concordance of birds that appear in McKay's poetry encourage amateurs and specialists birdwatchers and poetry readers to reconsider birds in English literature on the page and in the field Arctic Clothing of North America-Alaska, Canada, Greenland J.C.H.
