Global Perspectives on Complementary and Alternative Medicine Helen E. Sheehan, Barrett P. Brenton, 2002-09 Once labeling complementary and alternative medicine CAM as quackery or fraud the biomedical community is becoming increasingly complex as it struggles to cope with the explosion of alternative treatments seen in the United States With the establishment of the National Center for Complementary and Alternative Medicine along with an increase in departments or courses on alternative medicine seen in major American medical schools CAM has nudged its way into mainstream medicine Now that it has gained a foothold in the biomedical community several questions arise about its impact on our culture This issue of the ANNALS sheds light on the political economic role as well as socio cultural influences of CAM over the past 20 years This collection of articles also addresses the global and cross cultural dimensions of CAM With ever changing messages in the media about CAM and biomedicine the task of evaluating it is daunting Yet the contributors to this issue social scientists devote to researching the effects of Cam on our society are able to provide insight and a thorough commentary on the meanings of health illness and modes of healing

Taking Traditional Knowledge to the Market Maarten Bode, 2008 Taking Traditional Knowledge to the Market explores the paradox at the heart of the ayurvedic and unani medicine manufacturing industry to present itself as modern and traditional common and professional at the same time On the one hand the natural wholesome and authentic nature of these medicines is juxtaposed with the synthetic violent and iatrogenic character of western medicines which dominate the Indian market They are linked to Indian popular culture the heyday of Indian civilisation and a humane approach to medicine At the same time large ayurvedic and unani manufacturers use modern science and technology to create a competitive edge and distance themselves from the image of backwardness that also sticks to Indian medical traditions Based on an ethnographic fieldwork from 1996 to 2002 Maarten Bode studies five Indian ayurvedic and unani medicine firms Hamdard Zandu Dabur Himalaya and Arya Vaidya Sala The narrative follows the perspective of these manufacturers and hence provides an insight into the categorisations and the characteristics of the consumer Bode also reveals that researches conducted by large ayurvedic and unani manufacturers on their best selling brands follow logic positivistic and biomedical lines often ignoring humoral concepts and classical pharmacological notions
