Paul Celan Selections:

Selections Paul Celan, 2005-03-14 Paul Celan is one of the essential poets not just of the twentieth century but of all time Pierre Joris's selections from the remarkable heart shattering work provide what is surely the best one volume introduction to Celan ever published in English Paul Auster No twentieth century poet pierces the heart of language with such an exquisite blade as Paul Celan With Pierre Joris company's translations of key poems poetics letters and exemplary commentary it is as if we are reading Celan for the last time once again Charles Bernstein author of With Strings Joris has dwelled during the better part of his life in Celan's words and silences and as his brilliant introduction demonstrates he has journeyed through the work's intricacies like very few others Michael Palmer author of The Promises of Glass A beautiful and necessary book Celan's charred radiance shines through every page Richard Sieburth translator of Hymns and Fragments

Paul Celan Paul Celan, 2005-03-14 The best introduction to the work of Paul Celan this anthology offers a broad collection of his writing in unsurpassed English translations along with a wealth of commentaries by major writers and philosophers The present selection is based on Celan's own 1968 selected poems though enlarged to include both earlier and later poems as well as two prose works The Meridian Celan's core statement on poetics and the narrative Conversation in the Mountains This volume also includes letters to Celan's wife the artist Gisèle Celan Lestrange to his friend Erich Einhorn and to Ren Char and Jean Paul Sartre all appearing here for the first time in English An Introduction to the Poetry of Paul Celan with Selections and Translations Erna Mary Baber, 1965 Paul Celan Paul Celan, 1994 Poems of Paul Celan Paul Celan, Michael Hamburger, 2002 Presents a selection of the poems of Paul Celan translated into English with the original German on facing pages that includes a substantial essay by the translator on translating Celan's poetry Selected Poems and Prose of Paul Celan Paul Celan, 2001 A bilingual collection of poetry by the German poet considered by many the major European poet since 1945 features a selection of lyrics previously unpublished poems and essays and speeches dealing with his Jewish heritage alienation from society and the nature of writing Reprint Selected Poems Paul Celan, 1996 This is a new translation by Michael Hamburger of a selection of Paul Celan's poems The poet who died in 1970 remains one of the most important twentieth century German poets since Rilke Corona Paul Celan, 2013 Poetry Bilingual Edition Translated from the German by Susan H Gillespie Paul Celan arguably the mid 20th century's most important German language poet is commonly pigeonholed as a poet of the Holocaust a term however he never used Undoing facile assumptions about Celan CORONA charts a more idiosyncratic and personal path through Celan's large oeuvre choosing 103 poems from among the more than 900 Celan published The bilingual selection includes work from all of Celan's periods and genres Without ignoring the poet's well known work of memory and memorialization it seeks to open a space for new appreciation of Celan's love poems as well as his poems on political events painful reflections on his stays in mental hospitals and quasi burlesque verse Susan H Gillespie's translations are characterized by their ease of diction and their attention to the somatic and rhetorical

aspects of Celan's lines their sound gait tone and gravity as well as to their internal and external echoes The latter elucidated in notes to the poems include references to other poets and to Celan's wide readings of everything from specialized dictionaries to other writers what Roman Jakobson called their poetic etymology Here poetry is not what gets lost in translation writes Gillespie in the Introduction it is itself an act of translation of experience and thought into new language

Gendered Testimonies of the Holocaust, Petra M. Schweitzer, 2016-04-08 Gendered Testimonies of the Holocaust Writing Life begins with the premise that writing proves virtually synonymous with survival bearing the traces of life and of death carried within those who survived the atrocities of the Nazis In reading specific testimonies by survivor writers Paul Celan Charlotte Delbo Olga Lengyel Gisella Perl and Dan Pagis this text seeks to answer the question How was it possible for these survivors to write about human destruction if death is such an intimate part of the survivors survival This book shows how the works of these survivors arise creatively from a vigorous spark the desire to preserve memory Testimony for each of these writers is a form of relation to oneself but also to others It situates each survivor's anguish in writing as a need to write so as to affirm life Writing as such always bears witness to the life of the one who should be dead by now and thus to the miracle of having survived This book's claim is that the act of writing testimony manifests itself as the most intensive form of life possible More specifically its exploration of writing's affirmation of life and assertion of identity focuses on the gendered dimension of expression and language This book does not engage in the binary structure of gender and the hierarchically constructed roles in terms of privileging the male over the female The criteria that guide its discussion on Gendered Testimonies emerge out of Levinas's concept of maternity

1960 Al Filreis, 2021-10-26 In 1960 when World War II might seem to have been receding into history a number of artists and writers instead turned back to it They chose to confront the unprecedented horror and mass killing of the war searching for new creative and political possibilities after the conservatism of the 1950s in the long shadow of genocide Al Filreis recasts 1960 as a turning point to offer a groundbreaking account of postwar culture He examines an eclectic group of artistic literary and intellectual figures who strove to create a new language to reckon with the trauma of World War II and to imagine a new world Filreis reflects on the belatedness of this response to the war and the Holocaust and shows how key works linked the legacies of fascism and antisemitism with American racism In grappling with the memory of the war he demonstrates artists reclaimed the radical elements of modernism and brought forth original ideas about testimony to traumatic history 1960 interweaves the lives and works of figures across high and popular culture including Chinua Achebe Hannah Arendt James Baldwin Amiri Baraka Paul Celan John Coltrane Frantz Fanon Roberto Rossellini Muriel Rukeyser Rod Serling and Louis Zukofsky and considers art forms spanning poetry fiction memoir film painting sculpture teleplays musical theater and jazz A deeply interdisciplinary cultural literary and intellectual history this book also offers fresh perspective on the beginning of the 1960s

Utopia of Understanding Donatella Ester Di Cesare, 2012-06-28 Speaking and understanding can both be thought of as forms of translation and in this way every speaker is an exile in language even in one's mother tongue Drawing from the philosophical hermeneutics of Martin Heidegger and Hans Georg Gadamer the testimonies of the German Jews and their relation with the German language Jacques Derrida's confrontation with Hannah Arendt and the poetry of Paul Celan Donatella Ester Di Cesare proclaims Auschwitz the Babel of the twentieth century She argues that the globalized world is one in which there no longer remains any intimate place or stable dwelling Understanding becomes a kind of shibboleth that grounds nothing but opens messianically to a utopia yet to come

Literary Back-Translation Veronique Lane, 2025-06-30 Walter Benjamin famously warned against translating translations Yet literary back translations are increasingly being published whether commissioned by publishers to make celebrated translations of literary works accessible to their original audience or sponsored by nations and feminist groups working for the cultural reappropriation of texts that first appeared in translation back translations are becoming more common This book argues that the malaise they still generate are their very promise literary back translation transforms our conception of translation itself through the recognition that translations are literary works in their own right and as such also worthy of an afterlife It thereby responds to the call of Maria Timoczko's call for new approaches enlarging translation conceptually as well as ideologically Literary back translation reveals translation as much less teleological a process than assumed a process that should no longer be understood as a balance of forces seeking restitution as if it were possible but as a way to enable literary works to travel in both directions with no preconceived trajectory

Afterletters R. Kolewe, 2014-10-01 Lovers wrote letters Letters crossed absence longing joy passion loss and heartbreak Sometimes letters were answered Sometimes not And sometimes not for years but then In 1948 in the exhausted aftermath of WWII the poets Paul Celan and Ingeborg Bachmann met in Vienna They began a difficult and intense but intermittent relationship which lasted until the early 1960s broken off only when Bachmann could no longer deal with Celan's increasing mental instability And yet despite the break the relationship continued to haunt both of them In Afterletters R. Kolewe weaves together fragments of letters and other works of these two poets to give us a stunning sequence of poems that explore the traces of loss and love in language that breaks recombines and scintillates star crossed star covered star thrown

Flight and Metamorphosis Nelly Sachs, 2022-03-15 The central collection by the poet dramatist and Nobel laureate Nelly Sachs newly translated by Joshua Weiner with Linda B Parshall So far out in the open cushioned in sleep In flight from the land with love's heavy luggage A butterfly zone of dreams like an open parasol held up against the truth Flight and Metamorphosis marks the culmination of Nelly Sachs's development as a poet Sachs who was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1966 speaks from her own condition as a refugee from Nazi Germany her loneliness while living in a small Stockholm flat with her elderly mother her exile her alienation her feelings of romantic bereavement and her search for the divine Forced onto a journey of endless change Sachs created her own path forward From these sublime poems she emerges as a visionary one who harnesses language's essential power to create and transform our world Joshua Weiner's translations with Linda B Parshall are the first in more than half a century to elucidate Sachs's enduring poetic power and relevance

Glottal Stop Paul Celan, 2011-03-01 Paul Celan's widely recognized as the greatest and most studied post war European poet At once demanding and highly rewarding his poetry dominates the field in the aftermath of the Holocaust This selection of poems now available in paper for the first time is comprised of previously untranslated work opening facets of Celan's oeuvre never before available to readers of English These translations called perfect in language music and spirit by Yehuda Amichai work from the implied premise of what has been called Intention auf die Sprache delivering the spirit of Celan's work his dense multilingual resonances his brutal broken music syntactic ruptures and dizzying wordplay

Publications of the Modern Language Association of America, 2005 MLA International Bibliography of Books and Articles on the Modern Languages and Literatures, 2007 The Poetry Review Stephen Phillips, Galloway Kyle, Harold Monroe, 2005 The Griffin Poetry Prize Anthology Esta Spalding, 2001 In June 2001 the inaugural Griffin Poetry Prize for the best book of poetry published in English in 2000 was awarded to two poets one Canadian and one international The Griffin Poetry Prize Anthology includes selections from the remarkable shortlisted books chosen by jurors Carolyn Forché Dennis Lee and Paul Muldoon The selections from the international shortlist include poems from the translation by Chana Bloch and Chana Kronfeld of Yehuda Amichai's Open Closed Open Fanny Howe's Selected Poems Les Murray's Learning Human Selected Poems and the translation by Nikolai Popov and Heather McHugh of Glottal Stop 101 Poems by Paul Celan The selections from the Canadian shortlist include poems from the translation by Robert Bringhurst of Ghandl of the Qayahl Llaanas Nine Visits to the Mythworld Anne Carson's Men in the Off Hours and Don McKay's Another Gravity

Justifying the Margins Pierre Joris, 2009 In this collection of essays poet translator anthologist and critic Pierre Joris extends his nomad poetics to a remarkable zigzagging on the margins of twentieth and twenty first century poetry and poetics For Justifying the Margins refuses precisely to fill out spaces neatly to yield to straightened out pre set margins be they cultural literary linguistic or political Joris rather wanders through those spaces and thereby justifies the margins properly speaking His travel travails set off with absorbing explorations of writing as such traversing languages and crossing genres and seem to turn this collection into a marvelous group improvisation of texts which range from journal entries over lectures essayistic writing auto biographical notes translation obits and interview to Joris's outstanding and characteristically intense readings The author moreover brilliantly moves across and vindicates multiple fringes Joris's observation with respect to French literature for instance namely that the most interesting and explorative literary writing in French of the last fifty years has not come from Paris but from the periphery of the old colonial empire not only leads him to continually resurfacing meditations on North African and Arabic literature or the rerouted Surrealism of Unica Zürn's anagrams it also allows him to investigate the margins of English and American poetry in Douglas Oliver and Ronald Johnson or even to deftly re consider core figures such as Antonin Artaud Charles Olson and Paul Celan with in turn new offshoots in Jacques Derrida's pipe or

Irving Petlin's paintings A fascinating travelogue and a truly valuable read Justifying the Margins is highly recommended to both the specialist and general reader interested in experimental art thought poetry and poetics
