politics of reconstruction go far beyond aesthetic considerations Taking architecture as a major source of history and regional identity the impact of large scale reconstruction is deeply intertwined with political and social factors Furthermore memories and associations correlated with lost buildings of a bygone era are heavily influenced by their re appearance something which often contradicts historical events Reconstruction has become an established way of building and dealing with the past yet so far there is no comprehensive scientific study on it By bringing together eight case studies from Eastern Europe France Spain China Japan Israel and Brazil it provides valuable insights into this topic The chapters analyse the political background of the reconstructions and identify the protagonists In doing so this volume adds to our understanding of the impact of reconstruction to memory and oblivion as well as the critical power of reconstruction regarding contemporary architecture and urbanism

Architects Without Frontiers Esther Charlesworth, 2007-01-18 From the targeted demolition of Mostar's Stari Most Bridge in 1993 to the physical and social havoc caused by the 2004 Boxing Day Tsunami the history of cities is often a history of destruction and reconstruction But what political and aesthetic criteria should guide us in the rebuilding of cities devastated by war and natural calamities The title of this timely and inspiring new book Architects Without Frontiers points to the potential for architects to play important roles in post war relief and reconstruction By working sans fronti res Charlesworth suggests that architects and design professionals have a significant opportunity to assist peace making and reconstruction efforts in the period immediately after conflict or disaster when much of the housing hospital educational transport civic and business infrastructure has been destroyed or badly damaged Through selected case studies Charlesworth examines the role of architects planners urban designers and landscape architects in three cities following conflict Beirut Nicosia and Mostar three cities where the mental and physical scars of violent conflict still remain This book expands the traditional role of the architect from hero to peacemaker and discusses how design educators can stretch their wings to encompass the proliferating agendas and sites of civil unrest
