Eisenhower,1963 The White House Years Dwight David Eisenhower,1965 Conflict in Asia Uk Heo,Shale A. Horowitz,2003-04-30 Much of the world reaped a peace dividend with the end of the Cold War yet Asia has seen little reduction in tensions and military spending Three Cold War era conflicts those dividing China and Taiwan North and South Korea and India and Pakistan remain unresolved Other regional powers as well as the United States continue to be concerned about these volatile disputes North Korea s nuclear and long range missile development China s opposition to Taiwan s pursuit of independence and Pakistan s longstanding dispute with India have all received increasing media attention This is the first volume using a common approach to examine post Cold War changes in these three volatile dyads The book s case studies detail the evolution of each country s security policy and its shifting mix of alliances The authors analyze U S interests and discuss how U S intervention affects strategic calculations of the conflicted states This mechanism allows gives the readers a truer understanding of the conflicts and how they interact within the Asian security system in general Each of the dominant theoretical frameworks of international relations neo realism neo liberalism and constructivism offer crucial insights into this complicated situation Air Force Roles and Missions Warren A. Trest,1998 Traces the usage of and meaning given to the terms roles and missions relating to the armed forces and particularly to the United States Air Force from 1907 to the present Air Force roles and missions: A History ,1998 The twentieth century witnessed the emergence of three dimensionality in war surface forces flow became prey for attackers operating above and below the earth and its oceans The aerial weapon prophesied for centuries became a reality as did air power projection forces This insightful book by Warren A Trest traces the doctrinal underpinnings of the modern United States Air Force the world s only global air force We the men and women who serve in the Air Force but also our fellow airmen in America s other military services are the heirs and beneficiaries of a long heritage of doctrinal development and military thought Our predecessors pursued a vision of airborne global reach and power that often put them at odds with those who could not break free of the confines of conventional thought and lock step traditionalism Fortunately they had the courage of their convictions and the faith in their vision to continue to pursue the goal of global air power despite such resistance Today America is a genuine aerospace power and that pioneering vision dating to the days of the Wright brothers has expanded to encompass operations in space and between the mediums of air and space As we approach the new millennium it is well to ponder the lessons and the history of how a small group of truly gifted airmen transformed their nation s military establishment and in so doing the world around them Transforming the South Matthew L. Downs, 2014-12-08 Historians have long recognized the middle of the twentieth century as significant in the history of the modern South owing to a convergence of social change political realignment and cultural expansion This period in southern history has provided extensive material for scholars of race gender and politics In addition sweeping economic changes spread throughout the South permanently shifting the area s material resources Transforming the South examines this transition from farm to factory and explores the dramatic reshaping of the region s economy Matthew L Downs focuses on three developments in the Tennessee Valley the World War I era government nitrate plants and hydroelectric dams at Muscle Shoals Alabama the extensive work completed by the Tennessee Valley Authority and Cold War Space Age defense investment in Huntsville Alabama Downs argues that the modernization of the Sunbelt economy depended on cooperation between regional leaders and federal funders Local boosters lobbied to receive federal funds for their communities while simultaneously forming economic development organizations that would prepare those communities for further growth Economic reform also drove social reform as members of historically disenfranchised groups attained employment in the new industrial workforce they gained financial and political capital to push for social change Transforming the South considers the role played by the recipients of government funds in the mid twentieth century and demonstrates how communities exerted an unparalleled influence over the federal investments that shaped the southern economy

The National Security : Its Theory and Practice, 1945-1960 Norman A. Graebner, 1986-05-29 Based on a conference at West Point this volume explores the national security policies developed by the Truman and Eisenhower administrations in response to the threat of Soviet expansionism More pointed and analytic than any other book on the subject it shows clearly that the makers of Cold War policy were motivated by fear It also examines the nature of U S security policy and points to the growing gap between the ends and the means of global security policy to protect Western democracy from the Red Menace by using a nuclear strategy with limited applications The contributors including David Alan Rosenberg Lloyd C Gardner Martin J Sherwin and Gary W Reichard explore such issues as how dependence on nuclear weapons became the central doctrine of American foreign policy the bureaucratic and political context of U S security Eisenhower s ongoing disputes with Army and Navy leaders over the security issue the objections of Democrats to the evolving security strategy and the limits of Cold War policy particularly how the viewing of the Third World through a U S Soviet prism impeded the U S from developing a truly global security policy Written in an accessible journalistic style The National Security makes available a wealth of information on the Cold War period and offers insights into fears that dominate political thinking to this day
