No Empty Phrases:

No Empty Phrases Donald Hilton, 1999      Empty Words Jay L. Garfield, 2002 This volume collects Jay Garfield's essays on Madhyamaka Yogacara Buddhist ethics and cross-cultural hermeneutics. The first part addresses Madhyamaka supplementing Garfield's translation of Fundamental Wisdom of the Middle Way OUP 1995, a foundational philosophical text by the Buddhist saint Nagarjuna. Garfield then considers the work of philosophical rivals and sheds important light on the relation of Nagarjuna's views to other Buddhist and non-Buddhist philosophical positions.      Harvey's Weekly George Brinton McClellan Harvey, 1918      North American Review's War Weekly George Brinton McClellan Harvey, 1918

Judicial and Statutory Definitions of Words and Phrases, 1904      The North American Review's War Weekly George Brinton McClellan Harvey, 1918      The Homiletic Review, 1909      Homiletic Review, 1909      Morale and Its Enemies William Ernest Hocking, 1918 War carries the minds as well as the bodies of men into strange paths and so creates an unwonted need for self-understanding. At the same time the power and the leisure for self-understanding are diminished. Men as well as nations must choose their part quickly, discern their friends and their enemies, revise all plans, leap to strange tasks at the call of the moment, though all the questions of politics and of metaphysics are involved in the deed. And while the decision reached may reveal the solvency or insolvency of the soul, that issues it, the need to bring together the fragments of one's mental life remains and will remain for long after the war is past. This book is an attempt to help the soldier first and also the civilian in this task of understanding one's own mind under the special stresses of war. There must be many such attempts from different angles of experience; one can only contribute from his own angle, that of the student of human nature and of philosophy, aided by certain special opportunities which the author owes to the courtesy of the Foreign Offices of Great Britain and France. Preface p. vii      Lady Stella and her lover Henry Solly, 1888      The Central literary magazine Birmingham central literary assoc., 1881      Ford Times, 1912 The Ford owner's magazine      English Lyrical Poetry from Its Origins to the Present Time Edward Bliss Reed, 1912      Temple Bar, 1884      The Wolves of God Algernon Blackwood, Wilfred Wilson, 1921 Fifteen stories of mystery and hauntings      Labor and Liberty Henry William Cherouny, 1885      The Liquor Problem in All Ages Daniel Dorchester, 1888 This volume has not been a hot-bed growth but is the result of twenty-two years of special attention to the various questions comprised within its scope. It was originally undertaken as a relaxation from the regular duties of the Christian ministry and though not pursued continuously but at irregular intervals, sometimes of more than a year, few days have passed without some serious thought and inquiry with reference to the great problem. The plan of discussion of the Liquor Problem is historical. The argument is quietly implied in the general structure of the book and gathered to a focus in the three closing chapters. The historical portion of the book is brought down to near the end of 1883. While the author has made himself acquainted with what has been written by others upon the topics under consideration and has fully credited his indebtedness for valuable materials he has also made extensive original researches enabling him to bring together much fresh matter not before comprised in volumes of temperance literature An important feature of this book is eleven colored diagrams strikingly illustrating the economic aspects of intemperance and its relative progress to the population in the British Isles and in the United States It has been the aim to make this volume a thesaurus of facts and principles so arranged as to show the trend of temperance sentiment and also to be convenient for use by advocates of the Temperance Reform now a great multitude Nov 1 1887 This book is now closely revised and brought down to the year 1888 The developments and movements of the past few years are summed up in a large additional chapter and valuable material for the use of students and advocates of the temperance cause is added adapting the book to the present phase of the great reform January 1 1888 When Will the Day Come?
