The Research Process Myrtle S. Bolner, Gayle A. Poirier, 2002 Many of the assignments you receive as part of your experience in higher education will require you to use the library for research. To do this you must become familiar with its collections and services. You may be familiar with your high school or public library. Many libraries have canceled paper subscriptions to indexes and abstracts replacing them with electronic versions. Although libraries have gotten rid of their card catalogs in favor of online catalogs and subscribe to online databases and other resources in electronic format they continue to retain and purchase materials in traditional formats: paper, microfiche, microfilm, video, cassette and the like. And while it is true that technology has improved the ways we retrieve information it has also added levels of complexity. College and university libraries offer a variety of
