and Russian Research Reactors from Highly Enriched to Low Enriched Uranium Fuel, National Research Council, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Nuclear and Radiation Studies Board, U.S. Committee on Progress, Challenges, and Opportunities for Converting U.S. and Russian Research Reactors from Highly Enriched to Low Enriched Uranium Fuel, 2012-03-24 Highly enriched uranium HEU is used for two major civilian purposes as fuel for research reactors and as targets for medical isotope production. This material can be dangerous in the wrong hands. Stolen or diverted HEU can be used in conjunction with some knowledge of physics to build nuclear explosive devices. Thus the continued civilian use of HEU is of concern particularly because this material may not be uniformly well protected. To address these concerns the National Research Council NRC of the U.S. National Academies and the Russian Academy of Sciences RAS held a joint symposium on June 8-10, 2011. Progress, Challenges and Opportunities for Converting U.S. and Russian Research Reactors summarizes the proceedings of this joint symposium. This report addresses: 1) recent progress on conversion of research reactors with a focus on U.S. and R.F. origin reactors; 2) lessons learned for overcoming conversion challenges, increasing the effectiveness of research reactor use and enabling new reactor missions; 3) future research reactor conversion plans, challenges and opportunities; and 4) actions that could be taken by U.S. and Russian organizations to promote conversion. The agenda for the symposium is provided in Appendix A, biographical sketches of the committee members are provided in Appendix B, and the report concludes with the statement of task in Appendix C.
