Nine Women Signed:

Jewish Women in Modern Eastern and East Central Europe Elissa Bemporad, Glenn Dynner, 2022-11-21 This book provides a rigorous social historical study of Eastern and East Central European Jewry with a specific focus on women It demonstrates that only through the experiences of women can one fully understand key phenomena such as the momentous changes occurring in Jewish education conversion waves postwar relief efforts anti Jewish violence Soviet productivization projects and more broadly the acculturation that animated Jewish modernization Rather than present a scenario in which secularism simply displaces traditionalism the chapters in this book suggest a mutually transformative secularist traditionalist encounter within which Jewish women were both prominent and instrumental Chapter To Write What s This Torture For Bronia Baum s Manuscripts as Testimony to the Formation of a Write Activist and Journalist is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International license via link springer.com Radium Girls, Women and Industrial Health Reform Claudia Clark, 1997 In the early twentieth century a group of women workers hired to apply luminous paint to watch faces and instrument dials found themselves among the first victims of radium poisoning Claudia Clark s book tells the compelling story of these women who at Journals ... [and Appendix] New Zealand. Parliament. Legislative Council, 1901 Our War Too Margaret Paton-Walsh, 2002 In the late 1930s a number of American women especially those allied with various peace and isolationist groups protested against the nation s entry into World War II While their story is fairly well known Margaret Paton Walsh reveals a far less familiar story of women who fervently felt that American intervention was absolutely necessary Paton Walsh recounts how the United States became involved in the war but does so through the eyes of American women who faced it as a necessary evil Covering the period between 1935 and 1941 she examines how these women functioned as political actors even though they were excluded from positions of power through activism in women s organizations informal women s networks and even male dominated lobbying groups In the Great Debate over whether America should enter the war some women favored aid to the Allies not because they hoped for war but because they hoped aid would forestall more direct U S involvement but also because they believed war was preferable to a Nazi victory Paton Walsh shows that this activism involved some of the most prominent women of their day Elizabeth Cutter Morrow whose son in law Charles Lindbergh was an isolationist spokesman supported the revision of the Neutrality Acts to allow the sale of arms to the Allies and expressed her support in a national radio broadcast Soon other women joined this debate Esther Brunauer of the AAUW journalist Dorothy Thompson and organizations like the League of Women Voters and National Women s Trade Union League broke from the pacifist tradition to advocate American aid for the Allied cause Focusing on the conflict in Europe Paton Walsh shows how these women grasped the implications of the Lend Lease program for America s entry into the war but supported it nevertheless By late 1941 the Women s Division of the Fight for Freedom Committee had been established no longer merely advocating aid to Britain to keep American boys out of battle

this organization supported direct American involvement in the war as a means of stopping Nazi oppression While most historians have focused on women s pacifism Paton Walsh connects women more directly to world events and shows how those interventionists reformulated maternalist ideas to justify and explain their beliefs Our War Too is a story of American women trying to reconcile the irreconcilable to preserve both their principles and their peace It expands our understanding of women as political actors and thinkers about foreign policy as it sheds new light on American public opinion over the build up to the war

House of Representatives,1885 Journal of the House of Representatives of the State of Indiana at Their ... Session Indiana. General Assembly. House of Representatives,1885 Women and Gender in Modern Europe Jennifer A. Miller,2026-03-19 This book introduces students to the key concepts of women s history gender as a category of analysis and the history of feminism Spanning the late 19th century to the present day each chapter highlights major themes of the particular time period right across Europe before concluding with a short bibliography Whilst covering some familiar narratives in a broadly chronological fashion Jennifer A Miller introduces new actors themes and conclusions based on the most recent scholarship that further enriches our collective understanding women s history in modern Europe Miller presents a Europe of diversity from ethnic and religious perspectives that has also been sorely lacking until now European colonialism the suffrage movements the World Wars and the Holocaust the postwar period the Cold War and even very recent history are all closely examined in an essential volume for anyone interested in the European female experience of the last 150 years

Sisterhood in Sports Joan Steidinger,2014-10-10 Sisterhood in Sports How Female Athletes Collaborate and Compete tells the stories of all kinds of female athletes in a variety of sports Their natural tendency to use talking as a primary form of communication is essential to their experiences and successes in sports Women and girls tend to have BFFs collaborate during periods of stress express empathy for one another worry about themselves and others and desire to have fun in sports which makes their experiences of sports and competition different from their male counterparts Female strengths are grounded in both mind and body and they take these strengths onto the court field and track There are now dozens of studies showing how the female brain and hormones operate quite differently than those of men This book reveals the ways in which these differences confirm that intense emotions about relationships are part of the sporting life for female competitors Joan Steidinger uses real stories to show that women and girls compete at very high levels but also have a different view of their teammates and opponents one based on relationships and communication that impacts performance both on and off the field They enjoy and revel in sisterhood even as they fight to win Understanding this need for connection helps us better understand how female athletes succeed and perform both in sports and in life Female athletes and anyone who works with them will learn how to better facilitate mastery competition collaboration and connection on and off the field the practice of female collaborative competition
