Palgrave Environmental Reader:

The Palgrave Environmental Reader Richard Newman, Daniel Payne, 2016-04-30 The Palgrave Environmental Reader explores America's evolving fascination with nature and environmental concerns From the New England Transcendentalists to the UN convention on climate change this book includes works by Thomas Jefferson Henry David Thoreau Theodore Roosevelt Rachel Carson E O Wilson and others Consisting of thirty five important pieces covering a variety of issues this reader distinguishes itself from other writing on the subject by presenting more extensive excerpts and by emphasizing themes such as environmental activism racism and law

The Child to Come Rebekah Sheldon, 2016-11-01 Generation Anthropocene Storms of My Grandchildren Our Children's Trust Why do these and other attempts to imagine the planet's uncertain future return us again and again to the image of the child In The Child to Come Rebekah Sheldon demonstrates the pervasive conjunction of the imperiled child and the threatened Earth and blisteringly critiques the logic of catastrophe that serves as its motive and its method Sheldon explores representations of this perilous future and the new figurations of the child that have arisen in response to it Analyzing catastrophe discourse from the 1960s to the present books by Joanna Russ Margaret Atwood and Cormac McCarthy films and television series including Southland Tales Battlestar Galactica and Children of Men and popular environmentalism Sheldon finds the child standing in the place of the human species coordinating its safe passage into the future through the promise of one more generation Yet she contends the child figure emerges bound to the very forces of nonhuman vitality he was forged to contain Bringing together queer theory ecocriticism and science studies The Child to Come draws on and extends arguments in childhood studies about the interweaving of the child with the life sciences Sheldon reveals that neither life nor the child are what they used to be Under pressure from ecological change artificial reproductive technology genetic engineering and the neoliberalization of the economy the queerly human child signals something new the biopolitics of reproduction By promising the pliability of the body's vitality the pregnant woman and the sacred child have become the paradigmatic figures for twenty first century biopolitics

Eco-Concepts Cenk Tan, ISMAIL Serdar Altaç, 2024-04-15 Eco Concepts Critical Reflections in Emerging Ecocritical Theory and Ecological Thought offers an intellectual journey through the ever evolving landscapes of environmental discourse This thought provoking volume brings together contributors from international scholarship to scrutinize and illuminate the contemporary trends reshaping our understanding of the natural environment From the intricate interplay of rising ecocritical theories like restoration and empirical ecocriticism to the nuanced shifts in the reimagining of ecological concepts this book unravels the complexities of our relationship with the natural sphere This scholarly collection serves as a compass guiding readers through the uncharted territories of environmental scholarship or revisiting existing study through fresh critical perspectives Eco Concepts strives to become an essential source of reference for academics students and individuals seeking an in depth exploration of the innovative notions influencing the trajectory of discussions on ecology

Environmental Thought Robin Attfield, 2021-03-16 Environmental thought has a rich and extensive history. Philosopher Robin Attfield guides readers through the key developments and debates that have defined the field from ancient times to the present. Attfield investigates ancient, medieval, and early modern environmental contributions. Darwin and his successors, the debate in America involving Thoreau, Marsh, Muir, and Pinchot, the foundation of the science of ecology in the Western world, and twentieth-century trailblazers like Aldo Leopold and Rachel Carson. Central themes of key environmentalist works of the 1970s and 1980s are discussed along with the major debates in environmental philosophy, including Lovelock's Gaia hypothesis. Attfield then turns to the current environmental emergency encompassing the crises of climate change, air pollution, and biodiversity loss, exploring contemporary intellectual responses to it. Each chapter concludes with a list of recommended readings selected to invite readers to explore the book's topics in greater depth. Environmental Thought: A Short History will become a pivotal text in its field of interest to students and scholars of history, philosophy, ethics, geography, religion, biology, and environmental studies.

Histories of the Dustheap Stephanie Foote, Elizabeth Mazzolini, 2012 An examination of how garbage reveals the relationships between the global and the local, the economic and the ecological, and the historical and the contemporary. Garbage, considered both materially and culturally, elicits mixed responses. Our responsibility toward the objects we love and then discard is entangled with our responsibility toward the systems that make those objects. Histories of the Dustheap uses garbage waste and refuse to investigate the relationships between various systems: the local and the global, the economic and the ecological, the historical and the contemporary, and shows how this most democratic reality produces identities, social relations, and policies. The contributors first consider garbage in subjective terms, examining toxic autobiography by residents of Love Canal, the intersection of public health and women's rights, and enviroblogging. They explore the importance of place with studies of post-Katrina soil contamination in New Orleans, e-waste disposal in Bloomington, Indiana, and garbage on Mount Everest. And finally, they look at cultural contradictions as objects hover between waste and desirability, examining Milwaukee's efforts to sell its sludge as fertilizer, the plastics industry's attempt to wrap plastic bottles and bags in the mantle of freedom of choice, and the idea of obsolescence in the animated film The Brave Little Toaster. Histories of the Dustheap offers a range of perspectives on a variety of incarnations of garbage, inviting the reader to consider garbage in a way that goes beyond the common buy-green discourse that empowers individuals while limiting environmental activism to consumerist practices.

Leave It in the Ground John C. Berg, 2019-09-03 Employing scientific explanations and hard data, this book shows why coal is such a problem, how the pro-coal forces got to be so powerful, and how those forces might be defeated through political activism. Coal provided the energy to build modern civilization. This energy source raised standards of living, multiplied the earth's population, and enabled people in developed countries to enjoy leisure time. Today we know that if we burn all the coal available, climate change will continue to increase. But the use of coal isn't purely an environmental issue; political and economic forces are also at play. This book examines the politics and environmental impact of coal production and distribution presenting a clear point of view that we must shift away from coal use backed by hard data and supplying specific prescriptions for opposing and regulating the coal industry John C Berg explains how ending the burning of coal and of oil and natural gas is a political problem rather than a technical one explodes the clean coal myth providing scientific documentation of how burning coal emits more greenhouse gases per unit of energy than any other fuel and describes how controlling coal use in the United States will also restore the possibility of a meaningful international climate agreement Additionally readers will understand the critical importance of activism from local to international in spurring government regulation to control the coal industry which can only be defeated politically

African Philosophy and Deep Ecology Kenneth Uyi Abudu, Kevin Gary Behrens, Elvis Imafidon, 2025-07-11 This book investigates African philosophical contributions to the concept of deep ecology which advocates for rethinking human and non human relationships within our ecosystems by promoting the inherent and earned worth of all beings With ecological crises impacting lives around the world this book interrogates deep ecology thinking from African philosophical perspectives highlighting the continent's important ontological epistemological ethical aesthetic and broad philosophical contributions The book investigates issues such as the eco phenomenology of human non human animals relations Ubuntu and the environment the superiorist fallacy environmental belongingness the impact of colonization and modernity on non human trauma the politics of ecological narrative about African places the question of moral status African socialist perspectives the question of degrowth selective subordination biodiversity loss land ethics the ontology of waste and the concept of personhood in relation to global climate and ecological justice Providing a significant intervention in our understanding of the ecological crises and our duties toward ecosystems and the non human other in the twenty first century this book is an important read for researchers advocates and other stakeholders working in the fields of environmental philosophy climate change indigenous studies and African Studies

African Ethics Jonathan O. Chimakonam, Luis Cordeiro-Rodrigues, 2022-08-25 This is the first comprehensive exploration of African ethics covering everything from normative ethics and applied ethics to meta ethics and methodology as well as the history of its evolution African Ethics provides an in depth exploration of Ubuntu ethics which is defined as a set of values based on concepts such as reciprocity mutual respect and working towards the common good Ubuntu ethics also strongly emphasize the place of human dignity The book engages with both theory and practice and how these ethical ideas impact upon the actual lived experience of Africans It also includes important political considerations such as the impact of imperialism colonialism and capitalism on African ethics as well as the negative impact of apartheid and the renaissance made possible by the Truth and Reconciliation Commission whose work was premised heavily on African ethical ideas This book is not just a wide ranging and incisive introduction but also a reformulation of key concepts and current debates in African ethics Crucially African Ethics is an inclusive text one that speaks from an African perspective and contributes to the decolonizing of contemporary ethics Writing the Land Daniel G. Payne, 2008 At the time of his death in 1921 John Burroughs 1837 1921 was America's most beloved nature writer a best selling author whose friends and admirers included Walt Whitman Theodore Roosevelt John Muir Henry Ford and Thomas Edison Burroughs was second only to Emerson in fostering the nature study movement of the nineteenth century and the popularity of his work inspired Houghton Mifflin to publish or reissue the work of numerous other nature writers including that of Thoreau and Muir His first collection of essays Wake Robin was published in 1871 and over the next fifty years Burroughs wrote almost two dozen books and hundreds of essays not only on nature but on literature travel philosophy religion and science By the turn of the century Burroughs was America's most beloved nature writer whose friends and admirers included Walt Whitman Theodore Roosevelt John Muir Henry Ford and Thomas Edison Burroughs died in 1921 while on a train ride back to his New York from California His final words Are we home yet were a remarkably fitting coda to the career of a writer so closely identified with his native Catskill region of New York State In many of his essays Burroughs explores the woods and fields of home and in doing so like Henry Thoreau and his explorations of Concord Massachusetts he transcends the local and examines the universal theme of our relation with nature and our native landscape Burroughs's emphasis on place and the local now seems modern once again as the current interest in bioregionalism and climate change demonstrates it has become increasingly evident that thinking locally is thinking globally Since 1992 the SUNY College at Oneonta has hosted the biannual John Burroughs Nature Conference and Seminar Sharp Eyes which honors the influence of Burroughs on American nature writing Distinguished keynote speakers who have addressed the conference include John Elder John Tallmadge Joy Harjo Robin Wall Kimmerer Edward Kanze James Perrin Warren and Edward J. Renahan Jr The scope of the conference is not limited solely to Burroughs however as each year the writers and scholars in attendance direct their attention toward a particular issue of significance to contemporary nature writers and scholars of environmental literature The theme of this collection Writing the Land: John Burroughs and his Legacy was featured in the 2006 conference and includes essays on John Burroughs as well as essays on the work of other writers who like Burroughs are linked closely through their work to a particular landscape or region The third and final section of this book features invited essays by three distinguished scholars John Tallmadge Robert Beuka and Charlotte Zo Walker who consider the topic of what writing about the land and nature means from three different perspectives urban suburban and rural Built Environment, 2002 Environment & Planning A., 2007-07 Environment & Planning, 2012 Joyce in the Belly of the Big Truck; Workbook Joyce A. Cascio, 2005-05 Choice, 2009 Environment and Planning, 2003 Publishes interdisciplinary research on issues of Government and Policy with an international perspective Committed to a broad range of policy questions not just those related to government and public policy Topics covered include nonstate agents private public collaboration and NGOs nongovernmental organisations All areas of economic social and environmental institutions and policy are included Disciplines from which papers are derived include political science planning geography
