Medieval Marvels and Fictions in the Latin West and Islamic World Michelle Karnes, 2022-07-12 It is a commonplace that marvels like enchanted rings and sorcerers stones were topics of fascination in the Middle Ages not only in romance and travel literature but also in the period s philosophic writing magical objects with hard to explain powers abound This is the first book to analyze these different bodies of writing alongside one another comparing texts from both the Latin West including writings in English French Italian and Spanish and in Arabic on the topic attempting a unifying theory of marvels across different disciplines and cultures Michelle Karnes tells an untold story of the parallels between Arabic and Latin thought reminding us that the strange and the unfamiliar travel unusually well across a range of genres spanning geographical and conceptual space and offers an ideal vantage point from which to understand Arabic and Latin intercultural exchange Employing the notion of the near impossibility Karnes traverses this diverse archive marking the outer boundaries of both nature s capabilities and human creativity Imagination she shows invests marvels with their character and ultimately their power Skirting the distinction between the real and unreal the true and the false imagination for Karnes endows marvels with indeterminacy and import imbuing them with inherently interdisciplinary boundary resistant perplexing properties These near impossibilities cannot be conclusively discounted rather they challenge readers to discover the highest capabilities of both nature and the human intellect Karnes offers here a rare comparative perspective and a new methodology
