psychodynamic theory. The origins of aggression Temba Munsaka, 2014-06-11 Seminar paper from the year 2014 in the subject Psychology Social Psychology grade A Atlantic International University course PhD Project Management language English abstract The origins of aggression dominate psychological debate Psychologists are divided on what really is the cause of aggression in human behavior This has evoked the inconclusive nature v nurture debate on the origins of aggression The psycho dynamic theory is a psychological theory Sigmund Freud 1856 1939 and his later followers applied to trace and explain the origins of aggression Sigmund Freud s psycho dynamic theory is founded on the assumption that human behavior is propelled by thoughts and feelings that lie in our sub conscious mind Aggression refers to action or behavior intended to cause harm to a person toward whom it is directed Thus aggression manifests itself in varied forms which can be verbal attacks violent acts and threats to unleash destruction However the psycho dynamic theory has been criticized for over emphasis on innate personality at the exclusion of external effects in an individual s environment which may predispose them to aggressive behavior This paper analyses Sigmund Freud s psycho dynamic theory in explaining the origins of aggression The paper further argues that the psycho dynamic theory has its own inherent shortcomings when it comes to explaining the origins of aggression A wholesome explanation of the origins of aggression can be achieved if theories such as the externally stimulated aggression and learned aggression theory are also considered as they offer complementary alternative aggression explanations Understanding Aggression Azadeh Aalai, 2012 Origins of Human Aggression Gerard G. Johns, 1995-05-30 Establishes the interconnections between the economic structure and state violence in Aztec and Conquest Mexico from pre contact to present day patterns of state organized crime The Origins of Violence Anatol Rapoport, 2020-02-18 In this fundamental analysis Rapoport asks Why do we have wars Doesn t humanity always seem on the verge of self annihilation Is there something in human genetic structure that makes people want to kill each other Perhaps this impulse is a matter of good versus evil or just plain human nature Rapoport moves beyond cliches by claiming that the sources of modern violence reside in the imbalance between a lag in the system of values inherited from the past and the structure of science and technology that awaits no revision of values to move ahead As a result Rapoport argues that the study of war and peace should be considered a science just like biology or for that matter political science The same rules of empirical engagement and experimentation should apply Before we can have a theory of peace we need a methodology of conflict Using the writings of thinkers who have made significant contributions to the predominant ideas and ideals of our society Rapoport weaves together the strands of independent thought and research into a single thought provoking work After investigating the whys of violence using ideological psychological strategic and systemic perspective Rapoport moves to an in depth analysis of possible varieties of conflict resolution He explores such mechanisms as mediation education and applying the results of scientific research He documents the impact of ideologies countervailing dominant ones that place obstacles in the way of peacemaking Rapoport argues that conciliation and game theories can be utilized to replace the concept of winner take all or total victory
