Study Guide to Accompany Second Edition Program Evaluation Dune E. Ives, Jody L. Fitzpatrick, 1997

The Road to Results Linda G. Morra-Imas, Linda G. Morra, Ray C. Rist, 2009

The Road to Results Designing and Conducting Effective Development Evaluations presents concepts and procedures for evaluation in a development context. It provides procedures and examples on how to set up a monitoring and evaluation system, how to conduct participatory evaluations and do social mapping, and how to construct a rigorous quasi-experimental design to answer an impact question. The text begins with the context of development evaluation and how it arrived where it is today. It then discusses current issues driving development evaluation such as the Millennium Development Goals and the move from simple project evaluations to the broader understandings of complex evaluations. The topics of implementing Results based Measurement and Evaluation and constructing a Theory of Change are emphasized throughout the text. Next, the authors take the reader down the road to results, presenting procedures for evaluating projects, programs, and policies by using a Design Matrix to help map the process. This road includes determining the overall approach, formulating questions, selecting designs, developing data collection instruments, choosing a sampling strategy, and planning data analysis for qualitative, quantitative, and mixed method evaluations. The book also includes discussions on conducting complex evaluations, how to manage evaluations, how to present results, and ethical behavior, including principles, standards, and guidelines. The final chapter discusses the future of development evaluation. This comprehensive text is an essential tool for those involved in development evaluation.

Educational Evaluation Blaine R. Worthen, James R. Sanders, 1987

The Oxford Handbook of Classics in Public Policy and Administration Steven J. Balla, Martin Lodge, Edward C. Page, 2015-03-26

This Handbook brings together a collection of leading international authors to reflect on the influence of central contributions or classics that have shaped the development of the field of public policy and administration. The Handbook reflects on a wide range of key contributions to the field, selected on the basis of their international and wider disciplinary impact. Focusing on classics that contributed significantly to the field over the second half of the 20th century, it offers insights into works that have explored aspects of the policy process, particular features of bureaucracy, and of administrative and policy reforms. Each classic is discussed by a leading international scholar. They offer unique insights into the ways in which individual classics have been received in scholarly debates and disciplines, how classics have shaped evolving research agendas, and how the individual classics continue to shape contemporary scholarly debates. In doing so, this volume offers a novel approach towards considering the various central contributions to the field. The Handbook offers students of public policy and administration state-of-the-art insights into the enduring impact of key contributions to the field.
