Akenson, 2018-08-14 Apocalyptic millennialism is one of the most powerful strands in evangelical Christianity It is not a single belief but across many powerful evangelical groups there is general adhesion to faith in the physical return of Jesus in the Second Coming the affirmation of a Rapture heavenward of saved believers a millennium of peace under the rule of Jesus and his saints and eventually a final judgement and entry into deep eternity In Discovering the End of Time 2016 Donald Harman Akenson traced the emergence of the primary packaging of modern apocalyptic millennialism back to southern Ireland in the 1820s and 30s In Exporting the Rapture he documents for the first time how the complex theological construction that has come to dominate modern evangelical thought was enshrouded in an organizational system that made it exportable from the British Isles to North America and subsequently around the world A key figure in this process was John Nelson Darby who was at first a formative influence on evangelical apocalypticism in Ireland then the volatile central figure in Brethren apocalypticism throughout the British Isles and also a crusty but ultimately very successful missionary to the United States and Canada Akenson emphasizes that as strong a personality as John Nelson Darby was the real story is that he became a vector for the transmission of a terrifically complex and highly seductive ideological system from the old world to the new So beguiling adaptable and compelling was the new Dispensational system that Darby injected into North American evangelicalism that it continued to spread logarithmically after his death By the 1920s the system had become the doctrinal template of the fundamentalist branch of North American evangelicalism and the distinguishing characteristic of the bestselling Scofield Bible Today's Child ,1955
