Reconstructing The Past A Basic Introduction To Archaeology:

Reconstructing the Past Keith Branigan, 1978

Reconstructing Past Monastic Life: Volume 1: Bioarchaeology, Life and Death Lluís Lloveras, Carme Rissech, Jordi Nadal, Philip Banks, 2025-07-30 Explores health and lifeways in monastic communities focusing on palaeopathological insights into well being disabilities and burial practices across various periods Monasticism is a form of religious life in which participants renounce worldly activities to dedicate themselves primarily to spiritual matters living in small communities subject to a set of rules and isolated from the secular world Christian monasticism which originated at the end of the 3rd century in Egypt and North Africa spread to different parts of Europe in the 6th century However it was not until the Middle Ages that monastic communities became one of the most powerful institutions in Europe Monasteries and convents played a very important role not only as centers of spirituality but also as focal points of economic technological and cultural activity This multiplicity of activities carried out alongside their religious social and political roles make monasteries spaces that can be studied from very different perspectives and that unfailingly provide essential information about our history This first of two titles originates from an international conference that took place in Barcelona in January 2024 which sought to examine different aspects related to monastic life in the past and to promote and disseminate the results obtained in the latest studies undertaken within the framework of monastic complexes and their environments These include contributions and multidisciplinary studies from archaeological bioanthropological and or documentary perspectives Specialists from different disciplines present developments on the topic of monasticism from different fields of study such as zooarchaeology bioanthropology palaeopathology archaeology history documentary disciplines archives cultural heritage etc Volume 1 concentrates on health and lifeways within monastic communities focusing on palaeopathological information providing insights into physical well being and in particular the presence and significance of disabled individuals and evidence for long term health and dental issues A variety of scientific methods of analysis are applied to cemetery populations from monasteries and nunneries of different periods to examine both causes of and contributions to the death of individuals the composition of communities and the treatment of the dead Studies of assemblages of faunal remains from monastic complexes consider how faunal analysis can help interpret the role of domestic species

Discovering Our Past: A Brief Introduction to Archaeology Wendy Ashmore, Robert Sharer, Robert J. Sharer, 2009-04-22 This brief inexpensive introduction to the techniques methods and theoretical frameworks of contemporary archaeology follows the same organizing principle as the text Archaeology Discovering Our Past but features less detail Archaeological methods and theory are covered comprehensively at a reasonable level of detail in under 300 pages Illustrative examples and case studies present a temporal and geographic balance of both Old and New World sites Abundant student aids include maps of archaeological areas extensive illustrations chapter introductions and summaries a guide to further reading at the end of each chapter a glossary a bibliography and an index

A Brief Example of Archaeology in

Historical Studies. Ile-Ife, the Cradle of Yoruba civilization Afeez Tope Raji, 2020-04-03 Document from the year 2020 in the subject History Miscellaneous grade 3 1 Adekunle Ajasin University History and International Studies course Historiography language English abstract This essay aims to give a short introduction into the discipline of Archeology and its distinction from History The thrust of this piece is on the contributions of this all important venture to the historical reconstruction of Ile Ife Nigeria the cradle of Yoruba civilization Archeology as a discipline as distinct from history but complementary to it has played a facultative role in the historical reconstruction of preliterate societies overtime The thrust of this piece is on the contributions of this all important venture to the historical reconstruction of Ile Ife the cradle of Yoruba civilization The fact that history deals with the past in time perspective understandably makes it peremptory for the historical researcher to approach its study from a multidisciplinary perspective Hence Archeology
