Red Flower Rethinking Menstruation:

Red Flower Dena Taylor, 1988 Taylor debunks the myths and prejudices surrounding menstruation through carefully documented research cross cultural perspectives and much more The Menstrual Cycle Anne Walker, 2008-03-07 Anne Walker shows that women are neither the victims of raging hormonal fluctuations nor entirely unaffected by them Unlike most previous publications that focus on menstruation a part of the cycle The Menstrual Cycle presents a well researched study of the entire menstrual cycle and its relationship to women s lives Women s own experiences in different cultures are contrasted with medical textbook descriptions and the normal is found to be rather elusive This book will be read by discourse analysts doctors nurses and any woman who has felt curious about her menstrual cycle and its possible effects

New Blood Chris Bobel, 2010 Chris Bobel is a careful ethnographer respectful of research participants and while she clearly takes a stand on menstrual activism she handily defends her proposition that feminism is finding its balance between reliving its past and creating its future Bobel s work which includes incisive analysis of how third wave activists incorporate and update tactics and strategies of the second wave will be a welcome addition to the scholarship of feminism Elizabeth Kissling author of Capitalizing on the Curse The Business of Menstruation Among Women Nancy Sorkin Rabinowitz, Lisa Auanger, 2009-06-03 Women s and men s worlds were largely separate in ancient Mediterranean societies and in consequence many women s deepest personal relationships were with other women Yet relatively little scholarly or popular attention has focused on women s relationships in antiquity in contrast to recent interest in the relationships between men in ancient Greece and Rome The essays in this book seek to close this gap by exploring a wide variety of textual and archaeological evidence for women s homosocial and homoerotic relationships from prehistoric Greece to fifth century CE Egypt Drawing on developments in feminist theory gay and lesbian studies and queer theory as well as traditional textual and art historical methods the contributors to this volume examine representations of women's lives with other women their friendships and sexual subjectivity They present new interpretations of the evidence offered by the literary works of Sappho Ovid and Lucian Bronze Age frescoes and Greek vase painting funerary reliefs and other artistic representations and Egyptian legal documents
