Bergmann, Frank R. Hartman,1990 Available for the first time in English this is the definitive account of the practice of sexual slavery the Japanese military perpetrated during World War II by the researcher principally responsible for exposing the Japanese government s responsibility for these atrocities The large scale imprisonment and rape of thousands of women who were euphemistically called comfort women by the Japanese military first seized public attention in 1991 when three Korean women filed suit in a Toyko District Court stating that they had been forced into sexual servitude and demanding compensation Since then the comfort stations and their significance have been the subject of ongoing debate and intense activism in Japan much if it inspired by Yoshimi s investigations How large a role did the military and by extension the government play in setting up and administering these camps What type of compensation if any are the victimized women due These issues figure prominently in the current Japanese focus on public memory and arguments about the teaching and writing of history and are central to efforts to transform Japanese ways of remembering the war Yoshimi Yoshiaki provides a wealth of documentation and testimony to prove the existence of some 2 000 centers where as many as 200 000 Korean Filipina Taiwanese Indonesian Burmese Dutch Australian and some Japanese women were restrained for months and forced to engage in sexual activity with Japanese military personnel Many of the women were teenagers some as young as fourteen To date the Japanese government has neither admitted responsibility for creating the comfort station system nor given compensation directly to former comfort women This English edition updates the Japanese edition originally published in 1995 and includes introductions by both the author and the translator placing the story in context for American readers

On Vision and Being Human: Exploring the Menstrual, Neurological and Symbolic Origins of Religious Experience Bruce Rimell,2015-07 Visionary and religious experiences are ubiquitous among human beings but why do we experience them as coming from a hidden reality beyond the senses Why should we believe in the existence of deities despite the mundane evidence of our own eyes Why do we as intelligent primates ascribe any importance to these imaginary realities at all This creative and speculative thesis seeks to answer these questions in a new way gazing into the content of visions themselves and exploring the various inner realities that gave rise to these transformative and meaningful aspects of our humanity Focusing upon symbolic cognition as a fundamental organising principle of human experience a diverse series of musings upon the nature of reality consciousness and our evolutionary origins seeks to transcend our modern artificial boundaries to arrive at a holistic and delightfully playful human image for the twenty first century An original visionary thesis illustrated with 30 beautiful drawings
