Race And Class The Dialectics Of Justice:

The Dialectics of Global Justice Bryant William Sculos,2022-07-01 The Dialectics of Global Justice uses a novel application of negative dialectical interpretation to offer an immanent and ethical critique of prominent theories of global justice i e cosmopolitanism including how these theories manifest in political movements and policy agendas Drawing on the work of Theodor Adorno and Erich Fromm especially author Bryant William Sculos exposes the contradictory relationship between cosmopolitanism and core elements of capitalism particularly the domineering capitalistic mentality re produced by and through capitalism leading to the conclusion that cosmopolitanism on its own terms demands an alternative postcapitalistic political basis in order to make robust progress toward global justice While offering this critique Sculos also implicitly challenges the increasingly common view that cosmopolitanism today is inherently imperialistic and out of touch with the global resurgence of nationalism and anti cosmopolitan sentiment

Postmodern Racial Dialectics Richard A. Jones,2015-12-07 Postmodern Racial Dialectics is a collection of ten essays on African American philosophy Addressing issues as disparate as why there are no graduate programs in philosophy at the more than one hundred traditionally black colleges and universities in the U S to conceptions of Black utopianism to the nature of postmodern revolutions these essays are beyond the bounds of traditional racial discourse The essays are dialectical in the sense that they are conversations between personal histories between ideologies and between changing ways that the races talk to one another The book is postmodern in that it is beyond modernity s linear logic Postmodern Racial Dialectics is also a political entreaty for African Americans to be wary of conventional ways of thinking and to begin thinking transgressively beyond narrowly prescribed conceptions from both sides of the color line

Toward Racial Justice and a Third Reconstruction Bob Wing,2018 This collection of his always insightful writings from the last two decades allows us to trace recent challenges of left movements and to reflect on how we defeat Trump and the ultra right he has emboldened in the years to come Angela Y Davis Distinguished Professor Emerita History of Consciousness and Feminist Studies University of California Santa Cruz Bob Wing s Toward Racial Justice is crucial reading for social justice organizers and movement leaders especially in this most consequential period of U S history Anthony Thigpen President California Calls In these incisive original essays Bob Wing applies the hard won lessons of his five decades in organizing to offer us powerful paths forward Jeff Chang author We Gon Be Alright Notes on Race and Resegregation This book is a critical resource for anyone seeking to make desperately needed change Andrea Mercado Executive Director New Florida Majority

Research Studies on Educating for Diversity and Social Justice Ashraf Esmail,Abul Pitre,Darren E. Lund,H. Prentice Baptiste,Gwendolyn Duhon-Owens,2018-08-24 In the 21st century issues around diversity and social justice have become popular buzz words in the educational discourse This volume moves beyond popular buzz to critically explore issues of diversity and social justice through research studies that capture the complexity of educating in the 21st century Drawing from a wide range of topics such as race gender sexual orientation social class

language parental involvement and special needs along with other issues this volume pushes the boundaries of exploring diversity and social justice through the lens of intersectionality It will be helpful for scholars and practitioners seeking to transform the educational experiences of historically underserved students

Social Justice Loretta Capeheart, Dragan Milovanovic, 2020-05-15 Drawing on contemporary issues ranging from globalization and neoliberalism to the environment this essential textbook ideal for course use encourages readers to question the limits of the law in its present state in order to develop fairer systems at the local national and global levels

Gringo Justice Alfredo Mirandé, 1994-03-25 _Gringo Justice_ is a seminal work that will no doubt prompt further discussion and investigation Mirandé's primary point of contention is that Anglo American courts police the media and the social sciences have presented negative images of Chicano society particularly its barrio youth through the use of a subtle but powerful technique called the mobilization of bias The technique directs the emphasis away from the exploitation and subordination of the Chicano toward the problems and inadequacies of the barrio by portraying Chicanos as violent and criminal The end result is a double standard of justice in which one system is applied to Anglo American society another to Chicano When Chicanos internalize the negative images and begin to blame themselves and their culture for their subordination the mobilization of bias has come full circle Mirandé's treatment of the technique of mobilization of bias and the role of the gangs in Chicano society and his ideas concerning theoretical perspectives for studying the Chicano are both provocative and compelling Journal of American Ethnic History

Social Justice in World Cinema and Theatre William Over, 2001-05-30 Focusing on international social justice drama in its current local national and international manifestation this interdisciplinary approach explores the relationship of contemporary dramatic forms to human rights issues Over examines the artistic styles goals and thematic interests of dramatists and film directors of works of social commitment He also considers the conditions and economics of wide audience appeal that prevent Hollywood and many independent filmmakers from effectively addressing these politically explosive issues In contrast differing cultures and economic concerns result in third world filmmakers and playwrights producing more comprehensive expositions of social issues Considering a selected group of film and stage movements the author concludes with an optimistic prediction for political drama in the new century This informed discussion will appeal to film theatre and cultural studies scholars

Race, Class and Community Identity Andrew Light, Mechthild Nagel, Radical Philosophy Association, 2000-03 The inaugural volume of the new book series Radical Philosophy Today is an anthology of the best papers read at the 1996 Radical Philosophy Association conference Divided into three sections The Production of Race and Ethnicity Past Present and Future of Class Analysis and Community Identity Violence and the Neoliberal State this important topical collection focuses on the current interests of philosophers within a broad range of leftist orientations

Despite the intransigent nature of many of the problems discussed the contributors to this volume demonstrate the possibilities for developing a viable alternative politics Part one attempts to broaden and deepen discussions of race in philosophical terms including a critical discussion of whiteness Part two critically examines Marxism with an eye toward adapting it more carefully to contemporary First World U S society in particular problems and shows how Marxist analysis can be expanded to include spiritual and ecological considerations The final section of the book looks at the radical potential of the communitarian critique of liberalism discusses insidious violence in relation to the liberal state and concludes with a critique of Francis Fukuyama s contention that neoliberalism is the only workable political state formation The contributors include John Brentlinger Frank Cunningham Stephen Hartnett Thomas M Jeannot Joel Kovel Xiaorong Li Steve Martinot Charles W Mills Patrick Murray Richard Peterson Jeanne Schuler Tony Smith and Gabriel Vargas
